The Big Event Has Happened! Free 640-Acre Wyoming Homesteads

The long-wanted 640-acre Homestead Act is now a law. It permits application for homesteads in the grass-covered livestock area of Central and Northwest Wyoming. You can reach this area either over the Burlington's main line via Douglas for Converse County, or via Moorecroft and Gillette for Northwest Wyoming. Inquire early and go early.

This area contains large bodies of excellent grazing lands from fifteen to fifty miles from the railroad. Write me for circular of information and instructions, which will tell you exactly what to do, without loss of time, to apply for a stock raising and dairy homestead. You can secure one of these valuable mile-square homesteads in a well known, permanent, livestock area in Wyoming.

It is my judgment that practically all of the desirable grazing and agricultural lands will be applied for during 1917, and I consider it my duty to advise you of this opportunity.

HISTORY OF MEDICINE

The Morgan County Medical Society Will Be Fifty Years Old In May.

Anyone who has information about any of the early doctors of this county, or of any Medical Meetings or Societies prior to 1866, will confer a favor by sending it to Dr. Walter Frank, secretary of the Morgan County Medical Society, 209 Ayers Bank Building, and it will be edited for this column.

MEDICINE VS. THE SABBATH.

Among the early doctors of what is now Cass County but living near the present Morgan-Cass line was Dr. Elder of whom Dr. J. F. Snyder, the Cass County historian writes as follows:

"Dr. Andrew Wilson Elder was a product of the west and a typical pioneer country doctor. Born in Lexington, Kentucky in 1805, he came at an early age, with his parents, to a farm in Morgan County a mile or two east of the present town of Litchberry. Here he attended district schools and for several years was employed in carrying the mail on horseback, from Jacksonville to Princeton.

"Dr. Elder returned to Kentucky to complete his education, and in Lexington studied medicine with Dr. Charles Warfield, of that city, and graduated at Transylvania University in 1829, returning to Illinois he was married the following winter—the one before the deep snow—to Miss Eliza Reding, daughter of Ed Reding, the postmaster at Princeton; and this is the first wedding occurring in present limits of Cass County. He was old Princeton's first physician and remained there until the death of his father, when he purchased the old homestead farm, where he resided for several years. He sold out then and bought another farm two and a half miles northeast of Princetown and there remained for years, widely known and highly respected, when he again sold out in 1857 and moved to Logan county.

"In many points of view Dr. Elder was a remarkable man, his marked individuality was in excessive benevolence and kindness, with generous hospitality and genial social disposition. There was neither guile or rancor or malice in his nature; nor selfishness enough for protection of his own interests. He was rather more than medium in height; stout, well proportioned, pleasant featured and with child like simplicity of manners. He was of the Alapachic school but very merciful to his patients, and salivated as few of them as possible. He was slow, deliberate and dilatory; averse to undue physical or mental exertion and loved ease and personal comfort. Estimated by this era of sharp competition and hustling for business Dr. Elder would have been considered rather indolent or perhaps thought to be interested with the bacillus of laziness; but the correct diagnosis of his temperament was his possession of a strong constitution that would stand any amount of rest. However his was not the vagrant's plea that the world owed him a living, but the philosophical view that he had all the time there was and that time came as fast as it went; consequently there was no use to hurry and he didn't. But for all that he was a busy man and did much hard labor in a circuit of practice extending far into four counties.

Dr. Elder was a consistent and sincere Christian, serving as an elder in the church of Christ, founded by Alexander Campbell during the latter half of his life, sorely prodded by his conscience for pursuing his daily vocation on Sunday; thereby desecrating the Holy day; and seeing no way to escape it, as nature has no Sabbath and sickness prevails and children are born on that day as on others, he concluded and so informed the public that henceforth he would continue to practice as usual every day in the week, but would receive no pay for the work he performed on Sunday. The result was a startling increase on Sundays of various bodily ailments that demanded all of his time and debarrd him from all church attendance. He couldn't stand that long so he changed his plan and notified his patrons that he would no longer attend calls in the country on Sunday, but would prescribe for the sick on that day at home free of charge. Still the Lord's day continued exceedingly unhealthy and he found his home converted into a free dispensary that taxed his time and brain from early dawn until late bedtime, and also made it a free tavern, enslaving his wife and seriously depleting his larder. He gave it up soon, and compromising with his conscience on the best terms he could, he relapsed into the old ruts and made no distinction of days in the work.

"Dr. Elder's mind was clear and active, his judgment reliable and his attainments respectable. He was a good physician and tender hearted sympathetic man, always ready to relieve suffering and distress without thought of reward. His genial hospitality and kindness, and his total want of business sense were of course fatal to financial success. Payment for his services was left almost optional with his patrons, and all the poor were on his free list. Consequently at his death he left an estate consisting only of thousands of dollars in out lawed and worthless notes and uncollectable accounts. He was eminently a good man and exemplary member of society. Inevitable tobacco chewing was his sole vice balanced by his many virtues. His health failed early and he was forced thereby to retire at the age of sixty, tormented by vain regrets that neglect of his own interests had consigned his family to poverty. From Logan county he finally moved to Williamsville in Sangamon, investing there all his slender means in a small house, where he passed away in the fall of 1872.

SEEK TO PARTITION C. B. LEWIS ESTATE

Bill is Filed Asking for Sale of Land and Houses to Pay Debts.

A bill to partition property of the late Charles B. Lewis has been filed in the circuit court by William N. Hairgrove. The suit is brought in the name of Mabel E. Lewis and is directed against Margaret Lewis Bottom, Rose Strickling, Mrs. John Graham, Mary Lewis Marvin, Annie T. Loar, M. F. Dunlap, William A. Oxley, John W. Clary, Frank L. Ledford and Otto F. Bulte as defendants. A number of those named as defendants are included in the suit simply because they are tenants leasing the property which belongs to the estate.

Mr. Lewis owned four houses near the corner of Lafayette avenue and Sandusky street, a residence property on West North street and about 200 acres of land in the vicinity of Franklin. By the will of Mr. Lewis six twelfths of the property was bequeathed to his wife, Mabel E. Lewis, three twelfths to Margaret Lewis Bottom, one twelfth to Mrs. Rose Strickling, Mrs. John Graham and Mary Lewis Marvin. The bequests were all subject to the costs of administration and to certain debts. After the will had been filed here Annie T. Loar was appointed administratrix with will annexed. In administering the will it was found that the debts amounted to approximately $7,000. In addition there is a mortgage debt of about $7,141.

It is in the effort to secure funds for the payment of debts that the bill, which is practically a petition for partition, has been brought. Mary Lewis Marvin is a minor defendant and a guardian will later be appointed for her by the court.

TWO WILLS ON RECORD

The will of the late Mrs. Eliza Gray of Waverly has been filed for probate, bearing date of July 23, 1910. The witnesses to the signature were F. H. Wemple and Carrie Root. Mrs. Gray expressed the wish that her property be divided equally between the daughters, Daisy and Sylvia Gray and that they share with their half sister Lucille Gray Masters, 40 acres of land in which Gray had a dower and homestead interest. It is the expressed wish of the testatrix that her daughters have her residence property in Waverly.

The will of Nancy E. Lindsey has also been filed for probate in the office of County Clerk Boruff. This will was drawn Nov. 20, 1903. The entire estate is bequeathed to Wycklin Lindsey, husband of the testatrix, for life. At his death the property is to be divided in equal shares among the children of Mrs. Lindsey.

Mention is made of the fact that Albert Aeres, a son, is to be omitted from this distribution as he has previously received a share equal to that which the other children will secure from the estate.

PASSION WEEK SERVICES

Services will be held at Grace M. E. church every evening this week except Monday and Saturday. The pastor, Rev. F. B. Madden, will as a prelude to the Passion Week services, review the happenings of the last week in the life of Christ as given in the gospels. Tuesday evening Miss Ruby Neville of the Woman's college will give a stereopticon lecture on "The Homes and Retreats of Jesus." Wednesday is the day of silence when no events are recorded, and Dr. F. A. McCarty will preach on "The Strength of Quietness." Thursday and Friday evenings stereopticon addresses will be given by Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick, his themes being "The Lamb of God on the Way to the Altar of Sacrifice," and "The Sacrifice and the Victory."

The services will begin at 7:30 each evening and a cordial invitation is extended the public to attend. It is the hope and expectation that the services of the week will result in a new spirit of devotion in the hearts of the people of Grace church, and that there will come a deeper realization of the true meaning of the Easter time.

PACIFIST ONCE BUT NOW FOR VIGOROUS POLICY

W. N. Hairgrove in Letter to Congressman Rainey Urges Government to Spare Neither Men nor Money in Contest With Germany.

For some time William N. Hairgrove has been receiving letters from a peace organization in Washington urging him to write to congressmen and senators to use every effort to avoid war and to take no decisive steps in the present situation. The letters suggested that Mr. Hairgrove call a meeting here in Jacksonville to voice some protest against any possible war course that the president and congress may outline. Now Mr. Hairgrove has been ranked as somewhat of a pacifist, but recent developments and a study of the situation have changed his line of thinking, and he believes that the days for soft speech and "turning the other cheek" are entirely past.

Writes to Mr. Rainey.
Instead of writing the letter suggested he yesterday sent the following letter to Congressman Rainey and accompanied it with a telegram very much of the same tenor. Mr. Hairgrove said:

Jacksonville, Ill., March 31, 1917
Hon. Henry T. Rainey,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir and Friend:
I have been a peace advocate long enough. After long study I have reached the conclusion that this war is for territory and increased power by Germany. The U. S. has stood idly by while other liberty loving people have fought and suffered—has stood insult and injury intentionally inflicted. It can do this no longer consistently with honor.

Men and Money.

Back the president to the last dollar of the treasury and to the last man able to bear arms. There is no better reason to ask for volunteers in the army than for voluntary payments of the revenue tax. It all belongs to the government take plenty of both—millions of men and billions of treasure if necessary. Let there be no compromise. Germany must not have more power or more territory if permanent peace is expected. Instead Germany must be reduced in the interest of world peace, for German rule is slavery. There is no honor in fighting, only in victory, so victory is what we must have. To be victorious we must be efficient—must do things. To do things takes men and money. So Go! be with us. Go and go hard if we start, "and damned be he who first cries stop."

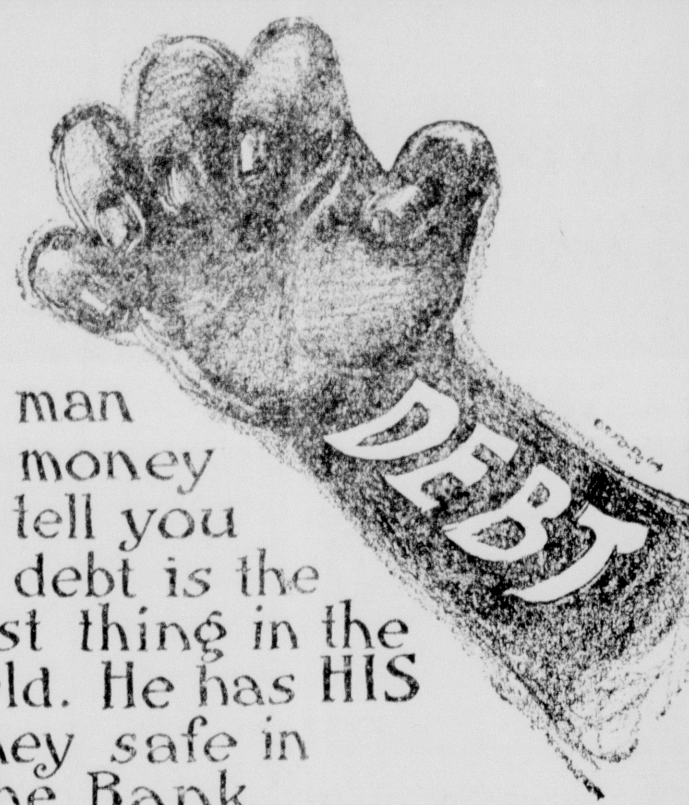

Of course I hate war. I hate the virtues of war—those speculators on the government needs. Take over plants and property as may be necessary. It is a life and death struggle to avoid military slavery. World liberty is threatened. I do not favor any compromise with Germany. I only hope that I may be able to do something for my country and the world. Life itself is worth nothing to a true American except with liberty. Do not hesitate at any sacrifice.

STARS KNOWN AND UNKNOWN IN "INTOLERANCE"

There are great stars in D. W. Griffith's "Intolerance," which will be seen at the Grand April 5, 6 and 7, who if that had been their only appearance before the public, would die "unwept, unhonored and unsung." Did you know that Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree appears as an "extra" in one brief scene? Did you know that DeVoll Hopper was a part of one of the mobs, and that Douglas Fairbanks appeared in some of the scenes? They did this just to be in a picture which they knew would be a world-wide sensation. It was just a quiet tribute to the great producer.

knows who now are revelling in eulogistic criticisms. The most remarkable case is that of Constance Talmadge, who before she appeared in "Intolerance" had never been heard of. As the Mountain Girl of Susanna she is second in public favor only to Mae Marsh. Altho Bessie Love, "the bride of Cana," is now well known, she had never been heard of when she was cast by Mr. Griffith for the scene of the Marriage at Cana.

MARCH BUSY MONTH
FOR THE FIREMENCalls Not as Numerous as in Previous Months But Above Normal
—Large Amount of Property Value Involved

After spending two strenuous months during January and February the record of the fire department for March looks small, yet it is more than the average of months in past years. During the month there were nineteen alarms responded to.

The total value of property involved in the calls for March was $23,800.25. The amount of insurance was $17,400. The total loss on property and contents for the month was $197 and the total insurance loss was $147.

During the entire year of 1916 there were seventy-five alarms. The total loss was $18,112. The department has responded to seventy-seven alarms in the three months of this year and the total loss is $15,392.

However, the present year is an abnormal one in every respect. The years of 1915 and 1916 showed a very small loss. The year of 1914 was a large year with a total loss of $20,000. The total loss for 1917 is $15,392. This is a large year and the loss is $15,392.

ALARMS RELATIVES

Nothing Has Been Heard From Morgan County Man Who Went to Wisconsin to Purchase Land

About ten days ago C. W. Lazenby, a well known resident of the county went to Wisconsin ostensibly to purchase land. Since that time no word has been received from him by his wife. It is thought that Mr. Lazenby had several thousand dollars with him with which to purchase the land and naturally his relatives are considerably alarmed at his absence.

Saturday Mrs. Lazenby visited Chief of Police Davis and asked him to assist her in locating her husband as she fears he may have met with some accident or have been robbed. It is not known just what part of Wisconsin Mr. Lazenby intended to visit. However, Chief Davis has forwarded descriptions to a number of Wisconsin cities and endeavored to locate the missing man. Meanwhile a letter may be received from Mr. Lazenby himself.

ACTIVITY SHOWN IN TRADE ON OHIO RIVER

Renewed Interest in Navigation Seen
At Boat Building Plants—Bridges
Raised to Allow Passage of Large Boats.

Cincinnati, O., March.—Considerable activity is being taken this spring by river navigation interests in the upper half of the Ohio river between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, the half that has seen the completion of its portion of the Ohio River Improvement and river men insist that there are bright prospects for a great boom in river trade. On the stretch between Parkersburg and Cincinnati, the activity decreases to some extent, owing to the fact that only half of the dams have been completed and industrial concerns still are hesitating about locating with an idea of water transportation for their freight where the river is navigable only from seven to eight months of the twelve.

An evidence of renewed interest in river navigation is seen at the boat building plants along the Ohio. President Albert Bettinger of the Ohio River Improvement Association has received reports in the last month to the effect that every ship yard along the one thousand mile stretch of the Ohio from Pittsburgh to Cairo is having its plant rehabilitated and made ready for an active season.

"I understand that all of the ship or boat building yards have been taken over by a single concern," said Mr. Bettinger, "and that all are being put in order. We do not expect much traffic this year, except in the Pittsburgh district. The improvement is having its effect, though, despite the fact that it is slow. This is shown by the fact that for years river towns had dwindled in importance but now they are once more coming into their own. For the first time in years a new town has sprung up along the river. Its name is Alleghrippa and river men claim that it became a town only because of the renewed interest in river transportation. The town lies of course within the upper half of the Ohio river, where the improvement has been completed."

There is also a report from a semi-authoritative source that the Standard Oil Company has purchased a tract of land on the Ohio river below the Fernbank dam, twenty miles below Cincinnati, with the idea of establishing a large oil distributing depot.

The activity that exists from Parkersburg to Pittsburgh was quickened considerably recently by a war department decision that bridges over the Allegheny river where it empties into the Monongahela must be raised so as to permit the passage of large boats. This enabled much business in that section to come out into the Ohio that heretofore either had to portage by rail or be sent by rail all the way.

The Ohio River Improvement consists of fifty-four dams and locks from Pittsburgh to Cairo, thus assuring a nine foot stage from the headwaters to the mouth of the Ohio all the year around. Between Cincinnati and Cairo only three of these dams have been started and of this trio one had been completed. When the Ohio river improvement bill was passed by congress it was specified that the work should be completed in 1922, but at the present rate of appropriations for the work it is estimated, by the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, that the project will not be completed before 1930.

STREET CAR AND AUTO
COLLIDE ON NORTH MAIN

There was a collision Saturday afternoon at the corner of North Main and North street between a Buick car, driven by R. D. Megginson of Woodson, and a north-bound street car, in charge of Motorman Arthur Ellis. The auto, it seems, was going east and marks on the side of the street car indicate that Mr. Megginson's automobile struck it with some force. The wind shield of the Buick was broken, an axle was sprung and the fender was bent.

SHIP BUILDERS BOOM GREATEST IN HISTORY

Great Lakes Companies Booked To Capacity for Year and Half—Most of Vessels are for American Owners.

Cleveland, O., March.—Great Lakes ship builders are enjoying the greatest boom in the history of the trade. Ship builders along the lakes are booked to their full capacity for the next year and a half. The American Ship Building Company, of this city, operating plants at Cleveland, Lorain, Buffalo, Detroit, Milwaukee, South Chicago, and Superior, have booked orders for 33 vessels for the salt water trade for 1918 delivery. It is understood that most of them are for American owners. The vessels will be full Welland canal size and will be about 261 feet long, 43 feet beam and twenty feet deep. It is estimated that the price will be about $600,000 each and that this coast trade business will amount to about $20,000,000.

In addition to the 33 vessels for the salt water trade the American Ship Building Company has booked an order for a big steamer for the Standard Oil Company, making 34 ships that the company has booked for 1918 delivery. This is practically the capacity of the company for the next 18 months.

Although it could not be confirmed it is reported that the Great Lakes Engineering Works of Detroit, which operates yards at Ecrore, Mich., and Ashtabula, Ohio, has closed contracts for 29 salt water traders for 1918 and that the company is booked up with business for that delivery. The Toledo Shipbuilding Company has taken about all the new work it can turn out up to the close of next year and it is said the Manitowoc Shipbuilding Company has closed contracts with eastern interests.

Most of the lake freighters ordered for early delivery this year will be late coming out and with the big rush of coast work and the fancy prices demanded by ship yards there will be but little addition made to the freight fleet of the lakes in 1918.

If YOU

are thinking of buying a set of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica printed on genuine India paper, you can see sets of this great work and place your order right here in Jacksonville.

THIS announcement is made in order that every person in Jacksonville who wants to own a set of the Britannica can make sure before buying that it would be useful and helpful. No one should buy a set unless he is positive that it will be useful to him.

Come and see sets of the Britannica, of both the high-priced Cambridge Issue and the popular-priced "Handy Volume" Issue, printed on genuine India paper.

This will enable you to find out at first hand what a vast fund of information the Britannica contains; and you can make your own comparison of the two issues, as to size, type, style of binding and price.

The Cambridge Issue is the large-page, large-type, wide-margin set, printed on genuine India paper—making a superb set of books. The "Handy Volume" Issue is also printed on genuine India paper, slightly smaller page and type, narrower margins, and selling for about 60% less in price than the Cambridge Issue.

So far as the choice of either set is concerned, it is mainly a question of which you prefer or can afford. They are identical in contents, page for page, illustration for illustration. But there is no question as to the usefulness of the Britannica. This wonderful library, in its present latest edition, is the most complete and authoritative survey of all knowledge ever published.

Examine it for yourself. Take the index of 500,000 facts and go through a page or two. Note the beautiful India paper—how thin but tough it is, how light and convenient to hold it makes each volume. Make your own comparison of prices asked for the different bindings of the two issues. Inquire about the convenient terms of payment if you do not wish to pay cash.

But act promptly—sets now offered for sale are the last. And the end of the sale is here. See sets and leave orders at

MOTHER! GIVE CHILD
"SYRUP OF FIGS" IF
TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

Children love this "fruit laxative" and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, mother. See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 56-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

British efforts to drive a salient into the German lines between Marcoing and St. Quentin continue successfully. Seven villages on a front of ten miles were occupied Saturday according to the latest official statement from British headquarters in France.

Marteville, Vermand, and Soyecourt, six to eight miles northwest of St. Quentin, were occupied with little opposition from the Germans, but British artillery drove the defenders from the village of St. Emille. Along the Cologne river, a small stream, the British advanced and captured Jeaneourt, Hervilly and Heudicourt. Berlin officially admits that the British advance reached Heudicourt and St. Emille but declares that a British attack north of Metz-en-Coutre, north of Fort Heudicourt was repulsed.

Further north in the region southeast of Arras there has been bitter fighting. The British report the capture of Heudicourt and the destruction of several posts near Ecoust-St. Mein and Henin-Sur-Cojeul. Near the latter place, Berlin says, an engagement resulted favorably for the Germans.

Northeast of Soissons the French have made progress and Paris says have repulsed two German counterattacks in the region of Vregny. Berlin reports that the French were defeated in attacks against German positions on the Vregny plateau.

In the By-stritz valley near the Hungarian-Romanian frontier on the eastern front, German troops have taken two hundred prisoners. North of the Pripet marshes near Novo Grodek Berlin says German enterprises resulted in the capture of 75 prisoners.

The forward movement of the British forces in Mesopotamia has brought them to within thirty miles of the Persian frontier.

So far as reported the new German raider in the South Atlantic, the Seeadler, has sunk eleven ships mostly British and French sailing vessels. One of the reports coming from South America is that the Seeadler was formerly the American Bark Pass of Baltimore, captured by the Germans in 1915.

At least one American, a negro and probably others perished with the sinking by a submarine of the British Steamer Crispin off Hook Head while enroute from Newport News to Liverpool, news of which was reported Saturday by the American consul at Queenstown. Sixty eight of the vessel's company were Americans. The total of killed and missing is eight.

Four men were killed in the sinking by a submarine of the British Steamer Snowdon Range. There were Americans in the crew but none is known to have been lost.

CHINESE PRESS FAVORS DECISION TO JOIN U. S.

In Protest Against German Submarine Campaign—American Minister Praised for Efforts in Bringing About Decision—Older Cabinet Members Opposed to Movement.

Peking, March. (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—China's decision to join with the United States in its protest against the new German submarine campaign was received with marked enthusiasm by a great majority of the Chinese press.

For days before the cabinet reached the decision to support the American position, the more progressive newspapers and younger members of parliament were active in urging China to assert itself and take an international position along with the great world powers which are resisting the new submarine regulations.

It was new China, rather than old China, which aligned itself with the United States. Many of the older members of the cabinet, as well as older parliamentarians, were opposed to the movement.

German financiers and diplomats worked hard to prevent China from taking a position along with the United States. Offers of loans were made, the past acts of friendship on the part of Germany were recalled, and the recent "aggression" on the part of Japan was cited by the Germans as a reason why China should retain Germany's friendship and invoke her aid in preventing Japanese expansion after the war.

Japan's opposition to China's entrance into the war, which prevented China from becoming a belligerent on two previous occasions, was not wholly relaxed. Japanese politicians worked far more quietly, however, than on previous occasions. The invitation from the United States for China to join in the protest against the German submarine campaign was far different from the overtures from England, France and Russia for the entrance of the Chinese republic into the entente.

Much as the Chinese leaders dislike to see China take its position along with the world powers with a chance that it will figure in the peace conference following the present war, they could not consistently offer open opposition. Chinese officials were solicitedly advised against haste, and many efforts were made indirectly by Japanese to prevent China from accepting the invitation of the United States.

When the cabinet reported to a joint session of the house and senate that it had decided to avail itself of President Wilson's invitation, there was much enthusiasm. All the members of the cabinet appeared before parliament and asserted that hundreds of Chinese lives already have been lost as a result of the German submarine campaign. A very large number of Chinese were killed when the British steamer Harpalvee was torpedoed between Rotterdam and Newcastle. Many Chinese were also killed on French and Japanese steamers torpedoed in the Mediterranean. The cabinet members explained that the extension of the German submarine campaign would mean a greater loss of Chinese lives and property should the Chinese government fail to protest against the new campaign, the cabinet members insisted that China would be supinely permitting new principles to be written into international law which are wholly in violation of human warfare.

Paul S. Reinsch, the American minister, has been highly praised by the Chinese press for his successful efforts in winning the leaders of the Chinese government over to the position of the United States and inducing them to take a stand against the extension of the submarine campaign.

The Peking Daily Gazette, which is a representative of the more modern newspapers in China, says of the Chinese action: "Although the maximum so far contemplated by China is simply rupture of diplomatic relations with Germany, it is quite certain that she will not hesitate to follow wherever America may lead; and that the United States will be involved in open warfare almost immediately is certain."

OTHER STATES CELEBRATE IMPORTANT EVENTS

Rev. J. J. McCabe Took Part in Ceremonies at Upper Sandusky, Ohio, When John Stewart Centenary Was Observed

In these days, when Illinois is thinking of its Centennial, other states, as Indiana and Ohio are celebrating the events of a hundred years ago.

Among others, was that of the beginning of mission work in the Methodist Episcopal church, which was observed for two days, at Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

The "Daily Union" of that place, gave much space to the exercises, which included a pageant of much realism and interest. It said, in part:

"The John Stewart Centenary which came to a close today was one of the biggest celebrations ever held in Upper Sandusky. Hundreds of guests and visitors were present from all over Ohio, and noted clergymen from other states."

Bishops Anderson, Welch and Hughes took part, as did the Hon. Frank B. Willis, Governor of Ohio.

Monument Unveiled
The occasion was the unveiling of a monument, at the grave of the pioneer missionary, which bore this inscription:

"John Stewart,
Apostle to the Wyandot
Indians."

"Father of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church."
The "Union" said:

"The pageant tells the story of the coming of John Stewart, the mulatto Methodist missionary, who brought the religion of Jesus Christ to Wyandot county just one hundred years ago. The first scene is laid in Marietta in 1815. The succeeding scenes tell the story of the pageant. It was acted out in costume by Wyandot county citizens and members of the M. E. church here."

Indian chiefs of several tribes are represented, together with John Stewart and other early missionaries, as well as historical. The costumes worn are the style of 100 years ago, the Indians are represented in war paint and feathers, the pageant is acted under the same trees and perhaps very nearly on the same grounds that Stewart talked to the Wyandots a century ago. The old immigrant wagon brings the missionaries and teachers, and the story is quite accurate throughout. An enormous crowd witnessed the pageant, and pronounced it very impressive and interesting."

"The parts of sermons and many of the speeches were used without change from their original form, but were attributed to others than those by whom they were originally uttered."

The program consisted of five episodes. First came the prologue. Then the first episode, John Stewart. First scene: Stewart despondent. Second scene: Stewart converted. (Camp meeting near Marietta, Markus Lindsay preacher; John Stewart, Jas. Wilson, Robt. McCabe, participants. Third scene: Stewart obedient. John Stewart and Robert McCabe.

And thus through the various episodes and scenes.

The interest to the people here is in the reference above given to Robert McCabe. He was the grandfather of the Rev. John J. McCabe, who married Miss Effie Capps of this city. The grandson took the part in the pageant of his grandfather, and was congratulated upon the success of his rendition of the part.

Robt. McCabe Aided Missionary
A strong reason for introducing Robert McCabe was that he gave Stewart clothes and a horse, to go as a missionary to the Indians, one hundred years ago. This was the start of the Methodist Missionary Society. The old Indian mission church, a stone structure, stands in a beautiful grove filled with graves of the Indians and pioneers who were converted thru the Stewart mission.

Later on, in the pageant, the Rev. J. J. McCabe also took the part of Dr. John Durbin, one of the greatest Methodist missionary secretaries. Mr. McCabe had found the very speech Dr. Durbin had spoken, when he took some of the Indians to New York, for a missionary anniversary. J. J. McCabe's father was a great mimic and had imitated the peculiar tones and manner of prominent preachers he had heard, before his son, John J.

Among those so reproduced was John Durbin, who had a very peculiar drawl, combined with a southern accent, and very startling gestures.

In the pageant J. J. McCabe was then enabled very accurately to portray Dr. Durbin. And, in this connection a very singular thing occurred.

In the audience was just one man who had heard Dr. Durbin. He afterwards told Mr. McCabe: "I have often heard Mr. Durbin, and while you were taking his part, I closed my eyes and it seemed to me that I was once more listening to Durbin."

Surely such an endorsement would show that Mr. McCabe did his part well.

GOVERNMENT MAY TAKE OVER LOCAL WIRELESS

Blanks Have Been Received for Furnishing Information — Station
Established Three Years Ago

Philip Dooling has received blanks from the Government to be filled out giving a description of the local wireless radio station. The local radio club has offered the station to the government to do with as it may see fit, either to use in its present location or move to any other point that may be selected.

Recently the government decided to assume control of all private wireless stations and to that end has sent out blanks to all of them. It is required that these blanks be filled out giving a description of the plant and its equipment, and sent to Washington.

The local station was established about three years ago by a number of local men interested in wireless work. It was first located on the Ayers Bank building but later was removed to its present location on top of the Woman's college. Ed Wackerle is in charge of the station and Philip Dooling is the operator.

The local station is one of the best in the state. Many times it has picked up messages from the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic coast. Those in charge believe that the present equipment under favorable conditions will pick up a message from Berlin but as yet have been unable to do so.

Have You Seen These Before?

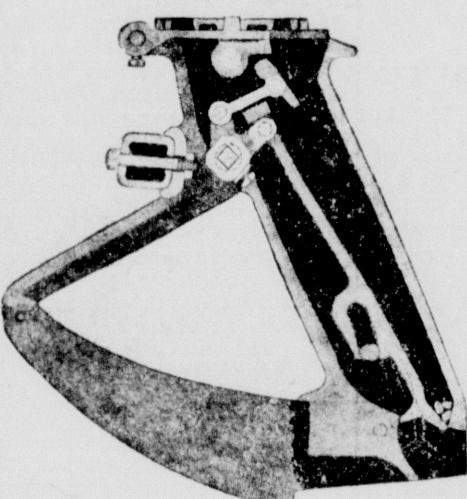

How many times have you gone into the field and noticed one hill of corn up and doing nicely while others are just breaking through? Here is the reason. Lack of uniformity in placing the seed in the ground, regardless of soil conditions, the seed used, or weather. The Blue Star four-wheel planter insures a proper start. The seed is planted uniformly, perfectly, due to the perfect mechanical principles involved in the construction of the planter.

The runners are set back between the wheels, and corn is dropped within seven inches of the covering point between the wheels. Their close coupled arrangement insures that every kernel of corn is planted exactly the same depth. The seed cannot be scattered on top of the ground or planted so deep it will not germinate. The shoe floats through the ground accommodating its depth to any variation of the wheel as it travels over the ground. By this close coupled arrangement the soil is packed back into the furrow at once. No clogging in the wheel possible.

LIGHT DRAFT—SIMPLE, SURE—POSITIVE IN OPERATION
Direct Gravity Force Drop Valve—Cannot Scatter or Clog

You will find by obtaining one of our planter booklets that we are showing you a winner, one that merits your consideration, and from the fact that we are handling these in carload lots we will and do save you money.

For strength of construction this Planter cannot be beaten. For convenience of operation it has never been equaled. For lasting qualities we know it is above the standard. Please come in and look it over and remember you can obtain this perfect tool at wholesale prices, $43.00, LESS 5% FOR CASH.

LIEUT. DICKSON AND SQUAD HERE FOR RECRUITING

Order From Gen. Barry is to Get Company to War Strength—Men
Now on Guard at Pearl and Louisiana Bridges

Lieut. Harrison Dickson arrived in the city Saturday evening from Louisiana, Mo., to open a recruiting office to recruit Company B, to a war footing. Lieut. Dickson's orders came from General Barry at Chicago Saturday morning. With Lieut. Dickson are Corporal Draper and Privates Carroll and Forwood.

Lieut. Dickson said last night that many telegrams had been coming to Capt. Owen at Louisiana. The lieutenant and his men will open the recruiting office in Armory hall and they will also visit adjacent towns in an effort to get the necessary men as soon as possible. All young men desiring to enter the service may call at the armory at any time during the day or evening as there will always be someone on duty.

Company B has been assigned to duty guarding the railroad bridges at Pearl, Illinois, and Louisiana, Mo. Capt. Owen with 45 men is at Louisiana and Lieut. Dickson said that Capt. Owen found on the Illinois side of the river was in a swamp and took his command across to the Missouri side and it is camped on a bluff at the Missouri end of the bridge.

The men did not get camp pitched until about 11 o'clock Friday night. Saturday morning Capt. Owen took steps to establish a strict guard on the bridge. The men were all in good spirits when Dickson left and are of the opinion that before long they may have some duty more strenuous than guarding bridges.

URGES UNIVERSAL MILITARY SERVICE

Chairman of Patriotic Mass Meeting in Chicago Demands that People Support President in the Present Crisis—Believes Wilson Will Lead the Way.

Chicago, March 31.—A plea for universal military service and a demand that the people of the United States give their undivided and enthusiastic support to President Wilson in the present crisis of the nation was made by former Secretary of War Jacob M. Dickinson who presided at a patriotic mass meeting held here tonight. He also suggested that the United States will welcome Germany to the sisterhood of the world's republics when the people of that country gain control of their own affairs.

Mr. Dickinson said in part: "Our ships have been sunk and our cities have been ruthlessly put to death by the German government on the high seas, where they were within their rights under recognized principles of international law. American citizenship is in danger of becoming a term of world wide contempt."

Will Sink into Passivism.
"The United States must vindicate its right to be a nation by protecting the property and lives of its citizens against unjust aggression. If the outrages already inflicted are not sufficient to arouse the spirit of our people, then we are cravenly impervious to insult and will inevitably sink into a Chinese passivism and in consequence as a nation, that will certainly invite despoliation of our cities, the devastation of our national monuments, the violation of our women and the deportation of our children into captivity."

"The crime of war just cannot be charged upon us. No other nation has done more to promote the spirit of peace, among nations and the establishment of tribunals for the settlement of international differences without appeal to arms. We are the only nation that ever went to war solely in behalf of the rights and liberties of another people. After establishing Cuba in her independence at our own cost, we promptly withdrew our armies."

Have Idealized Peace.
"We have so long and so constantly idealized peace, that there has sprung up in our midst a noxious parasite, not from American soil, but attaching itself to the body politic from which it draws its existence and whose protection it enjoys. I mean those so-called pacifists who exalt, even in a crisis like this, when our citizens are being murdered on the high seas, a general theory of humanitarianism above the country that shelters them, and who would denationalize us, deny every principle of patriotism, scoff at the monuments of our national heroes and turn to the wall the pictures of Washington, Jackson, Lincoln and Grant, who thru war, and the direct results of war achieved their country's love and a place among those immortal few that were not born to die."

"Such pacifists try to terrify us with a cry of 'militarism.' If there be such a risk, I would take the chances and trust to the sense and strength of our people to deal with our own military, rather than suffer the degradation and outrage that will certainly come from foreign militarism if we proclaim the shameful doctrine of non-resistance."

To Frighten Ignorant.
"This threat is a bogey to frighten those ignorant of our history. Some urge that we are wholly unprepared and should take no hostile action until we are adequately prepared. Such a course is abject submission, or a war with Germany after this war is over.

"If we fight we must act with those who are now fighting Germany. The result will be quicker and surer, the outlay and hazard less we will be at the council board when the terms of peace are adjusted and will have friends and not stand isolated when the war is over. If we have unsettled issues with Germany and have no part in the treaty of peace, then God help the United States."

Bear No Malice.
"If we wage war with Germany we should make it plain to the German people at large that we do not regard them as responsible for our differences, that we believe that is a condition brought about by their military rulers, that we bear them no malice, that we would gladly welcome them to the sisterhood of republics, and that if they shall achieve control of their own affairs our contest with them will soon be ended."

"For our unpreparedness our whole people are responsible. That we can almost immediately evolve tremendous forces that will potentially affect the result of the present war is manifest. Thru our finances, our factories, our shipping, our light sea craft, aeroplanes and navy we can soon become a powerful factor. The question of putting troops in the field is more remote but if the war shall last a year we can accomplish much in that direction."

Should Wage War to Limit.
"The only way to impose the burden of national defense is by universal training and, when necessity shall arise, by universal services. It is not democratic to leave the sacrifice to be borne alone by volunteers. We should here and now let congress know how we stand on this question. If we go in it must be with all our might. We should have no war, or should wage war to the limit of our power."

"It is said that President Wilson will merely present the facts to congress and make no recommendation. I do not believe it. The American people look for leadership. I believe that our president will lead courageously in a way that Americans who are lovers of their country can proudly follow."

SPECIAL SHOWING of NEW EASTER MILLINERY H. J. & L. M. Smith. MAVERICKS

If you have a tired feeling
Like one who's full of dope,
You might as well go fishing.
For, spring fever's got your goat.

April Fool.
Be careful not to pick up any bombs today.

The man who doesn't own an automobile these days is happy. He has no worry about the price of gasoline.

Confront in Citizenship.
An Iowa man committed suicide rather than go to war. A New Jersey man walked twenty-five miles to enlist in the navy.

Many a mother who didn't raise her boy to be a soldier sits complacently by and lets him smoke cigarettes which have been almost as fatal to humanity as war.

He talked of war the whole day long.
In fact 'twas the burden of his song.
But when the call to the colors came,
He stayed at home and, talked just the same.

Evidently nothing can prevent Mr. Bryan from talking.
In the meantime Mr. Villa is as busy as the proverbial little bee.

Guarding bridges may be rather prosaic compared with fighting in the field, but it is a great deal safer.

A Chicago doctor advises that if a kiss is necessary it should be taken thru sterilized gauze. Not many people will pay any attention to advice.

We envy the man who has a wife who is deaf and dumb. He can't hear her talk when he gets home late and all he has to do is to turn out the light and he can't even see her make signs.

Revolutionists in Cuba stole a one ring circus, including an elephant. Evidently the revolutionists never heard the song from "Wang," of the man who had an elephant on his hands.

Judge Landis says you can't be an American citizen if you break the liquor law. If that be true we know of a lot of aliens in Jacksonville.

Imperial Chancellor Hollweg says that if war comes between America and Germany that Germany will not be responsible for it. It seems like we have heard that statement before. We also presume that Germany was not responsible for devastating Belgium which had not offered the least affront.

ONLY A WEEK MORE.
Easter is only a week off. Ladies will do well to leave their orders for Easter millinery with L. C. & R. E. Henry, opera house milliners, at once and be in time for the glad day.

R. E. CONSULTING COMMITTEE ORGANIZED

Paris, March.—A railroad consulting committee has been organized with Emile Loubet, former president of the republic, as chairman, and a number of leading senators and deputies with the presidents of the principal chambers of commerce and expert railroad men as members. The functions of this committee are to study, from the standpoint of general public, such questions of transportation as require consideration from time to time and submit the results of their consultations to both the government and the railroad companies.

WAR LOAN OVERSUBSCRIBED.

Melbourne, Australia, March.—The fourth and latest Commonwealth war loan of $50,000,000 with interest at 4 1/2 per cent and repayment in 1925 was oversubscribed to the extent of at least $1,200,000. But the Federal Treasurer, A. Poynton, said, in making this announcement that the figures were incomplete, there being a large number of subscriptions yet to be received and that the full extent of the success of the loan would not be known until on March 31. It is the opinion of financial experts and government officials that the final figure will be about $100,000,000. This would bring the total of Australia's war loans up to $244,000,000.

The fourth war loan was liberally supported by banks, insurance companies and individuals. It was aided by a well organized scheme of newspaper publicity.

THE ONWARD MARCH of Bronchitis, and deep seated Coughs is arrested by Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

In those scrofulous conditions of the blood which invite Consumption; in severe, lingering Coughs, and Weak Lungs, which threaten you with this fatal disease, and when other help has failed—this medicine is a proved remedy.

As a blood-cleanser, strength-restorer, and tonic it is sure to benefit. In all lingering Bronchial and Throat affections, and in every disease that can be reached through the blood, it never fails to benefit or cure. In tablet or liquid form.

The machinery of the body needs to be well oiled, kept in good condition just as the automobile, steam engine or

Wagon, tired and overworked kidneys fail to do this, hence the uric acid accumulates and the urate salts are carried by the blood to the solid tissue structure, causing backache, lumbago, rheumatism, dropsy, drowsiness, and tired feeling.

To overcome the trouble is only a matter of toning up the kidneys, and this is best done by a treatment with Anuric, three times a day. Anuric is a recent discovery of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., and can be obtained at any drug store.

Experience taught Doctor Pierce that Anuric is a more powerful agent than lithia in dissolving uric acid, and it is then carried out of the system.

What Is Uric Acid?

Everyone has uric acid in the system, but naturally in small quantities. Excessive amount is caused by eating too much meat and foods that ferment in stomach. The kidneys, being the filters of the blood, are supposed to separate and throw the poisons out of the system.

To overcome the trouble is only a matter of toning up the kidneys, and this is best done by a treatment with Anuric, three times a day. Anuric is a recent discovery of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., and can be obtained at any drug store.

Experience taught Doctor Pierce that Anuric is a more powerful agent than lithia in dissolving uric acid, and it is then carried out of the system.

What Is Uric Acid?

Everyone has uric acid in the system, but naturally in small quantities. Excessive amount is caused by eating too much meat and foods that ferment in stomach. The kidneys, being the filters of the blood, are supposed to separate and throw the poisons out of the system.

Weak, tired and overworked kidneys fail to do this, hence the uric acid accumulates and the urate salts are carried by the blood to the solid tissue structure, causing backache, lumbago, rheumatism, dropsy, drowsiness, and tired feeling.

DIPLOMATIC CRISES

Breaking Off Relations Does Not Always Spell War.

WE HAVE HAD MANY CLASHES.

One of Our Disputes With France Brought Us to the Very Verge of Hostilities, but the Quarrel Was Amicably Settled—Our Break With Italy.

Several times before our break with Germany this country severed diplomatic relations with foreign powers without war as a result. We had a number of diplomatic crises with France, and we also broke with Venezuela, Nicaragua, Mexico and Italy, yet hostilities in each case were averted.

During President Madison's administration American commerce had suffered severely from the enforcement of the Berlin and Milan decrees, issued by Napoleon, and when peace was finally declared in Europe in 1815 this government at once sought monetary compensation for the damages done its citizens. While the French government readily admitted the justice of the claim, it seemed in no hurry to pay it, and the negotiations dragged along until President Jackson referred to the subject with unusual harshness in his first annual message to congress.

This action resulted in a treaty between the two nations, binding the French government to pay to the United States the sum of $5,000,000 in six annual installments. But the payments were not made, and this moved President Jackson to send another fiery message to congress, which put France in a rage and resulted in the ministers of both countries being recalled. President Jackson then abruptly demanded the payment of the money.

The reply of the French government in turn enraged this country. "We will pay the money," wrote the French foreign minister, "when the government of the United States is ready on its part to declare to us, by addressing its claim to us officially in writing, that it regrets the misunderstanding which has arisen between the two countries, that this misunderstanding is founded upon a mistake and that it never entered into its intention to call in question the good faith of the French government nor to take a menacing attitude toward France. If the United States does not give this assurance we shall be obliged to think that this misunderstanding is not the result of an error."

The excitement in this country and France soon approached that frenzy which precedes war, and the president's message contained nothing to allay it.

War preparations were made with frantic energy, a large French squadron appeared in the vicinity of the West Indies, and in congress John Quincy Adams made a speech so thrilling in its eloquence that when the venerable orator resumed his seat "the very walls shook with the thundering applause he had awakened." But that was all. A few weeks later President Jackson informed congress that he had accepted the offer of Great Britain to act as mediator in the dispute, with the proviso that the apology demanded by the French government was out of the question, and in May, 1823, the entire incident was brought to an appropriate conclusion by France paying the money due of its own accord without awaiting for the action of the arbitrator. Lewis Cass then went to France as minister plenipotentiary, and King Louis Philippe showed the true affection he felt for the United States by ordering a painting of President Andrew Jackson to be hung in the palace of the Tuilleries.

Our diplomatic relations with Italy were severed during President Benjamin Harrison's term.

Members of the Mafia, an Italian secret society, had perpetrated a series of murders in New Orleans. The activity of Chief of Police David C. Hennessy drew upon him the enmity of the conspirators, and he was murdered.

The jury acquitted six of the nine who had been arrested in connection with the conspiracy and disagreed as to the other three. A mob then stormed the jail and lynched those who had been acquitted, along with some others suspected.

Italy demanded reparation and the punishment of those guilty of being implicated in the hangings. Our government expressed regret, but explained that the state in which the crimes were committed had jurisdiction and Washington could not guarantee to punish those accused of taking part in the lynching.

That did not suit Italy. Baron Fava, the Italian minister, was recalled, and diplomatic relations between this country and Italy were severed. After the first heat of resentment had passed negotiations were resumed, and we settled by the payment of $25,000 indemnity to the families of the victims and expressing our regret to the Italian government.

The Iron Glove.

A refinement of cruelty is the torture of the "iron glove," as it is called, which used to be common in Morocco. A lump of quicklime is placed in a man's hand, which is closed up into a fist. Then the fist is tightly bound with leather thongs and plunged into a tub of cold water. The agony soon becomes extreme. The torture is continued for eight or ten days, until in the end mortification ensues and probably death.

Calmness would soon starve and die of itself if nobody took it in and gave it a lodging.—Leighton.

SUNLIGHT AND SOIL.

Causes of the Difference of Color in Foliage and Flowers.

It is sunlight that chiefly causes the difference in the color of the foliage and flowers of plants. The foliage and flowers of plants absorb sun rays of certain colors and reject others, and this it is that makes the flowers take on their proper colors.

We know that the character of the soil and possibly a difference in climate may cause flowers to change their colors. Some wild flowers of New Jersey are of quite a different shade of color from the same flowers in Illinois, the character of the soil causing the flowers to change their selection of the sun's rays, and thus the color of the flower is changed.

To prove that the character of the soil may change the color of flowers take any of the pink flowering varieties of Hydrangea hortensis, repot the plant, carefully washing away the old soil, and replace in soil in which alum has been incorporated. The proper proportion is half a pound of alum broken into pieces the size of a hickory nut to each bushel of soil. In this soil the plants, instead of producing pink flowers, as formerly, will produce flowers of blue.

New shades of flowers are produced by crossing one color with another, somewhat as an artist mixes paints to obtain desired shades and colors, but with far more trouble and far less accuracy. Sometimes on the same stem flowers of different colors are found, due to hybridization or to a freak of nature, the tendency to break away from the established type. In nature nothing stands still. It is either progression or retrogression.

The range of color for each species seems to be confined within certain limits, though the hybridizer is gradually extending these limits. Yellow, white and purple are the commonest colors in wild flowers in the order named. Yellow is the simplest and most primitive color and blue the latest and most highly evolved.—Exchange.

BATHS A MONTH LONG.

Natives of Japan Take Them Hot and Sleep in the Water.

The number of baths taken daily by the Japanese at the hot springs and the length of time they remain in the water run counter to all western medical opinion regarding the utility of hot baths for invalids. Five or six times a day for an hour or longer at a time would not be considered an uncommon regime.

A smile of incredulity was raised some years ago when Professor Chamberlain told us of a tiny spa where the bathers stayed in the water for a month or more, with stones on their hips to prevent them from floating in the water. Yet I could name another remote little spot where a very old man—well advanced in the nineties, in fact—has literally lived in the shallow warm water of the spring for years, his knees and neck supported by a beam, from early morn till midnight.

The high temperature at which the baths are taken has excited the wonder of many travelers. At Kusatsu, for instance, that of the chief bath is 128 degrees F., but such a temperature necessarily involves special precautions before entering the bath, with a limit of from three and one-half to four minutes' immersion.

When we remember that water at 115 degrees F. can just be borne by the hand, but not by the whole body, it is possible to realize the agony of afflicted humanity in the Kusatsu baths. At the same time the Japanese skin cannot be so sensitive as that of the European. For the daily bath is enjoyed by the native at a temperature that makes the boldest of us wince.—Herald of Asia.

Exhausted Soil.

Where there is "exhausted soil" usually it is the loss of humus that causes the condition. Get sufficient vegetable matter back into the soil, and usually applying manure is the quickest way to accomplish this. Give a dressing of lime to neutralize it in case the soil is sour, and the fertility will be restored. Proper cultivation and handling thereafter, working in vegetable matter every year, will keep it in condition.—New York Sun.

Fattening Foods.

Potatoes, cereals, bread and all starchy vegetables are fattening, but should be well chewed and tasted before swallowing. Thin, anemic people derive much benefit from egg lemonade or egg-nogs (without alcohol) made from the yolks, which contain fat, iron and other valuable elements. Butter and olive oil are better than other fats and less likely to disturb the digestion.

Doing His Best.

"Mamma, the Smiths live in the town where we"—
"I think I should use the word 'reside,' Tommy."
"Well, they reside in the town where we reside before we moved here, don't they?"—Chicago Tribune.

Time's Changes.

When folks used to snuff ham and cabbage cooking in our kitchens they thought we were poor. Now they wonder where we got the money.—Washington Herald.

Land Him Quick.

Ethel—How many times do you make a young man propose before you say yes? Muriel—If you have to make him propose you'd better say yes the first time.—Puck.

Enjoy Life.

What we want to see is one who can breast into the world, do a man's work and still preserve his first and pure enjoyment of existence.—Stevenson.

Mrs. Becker Thinks She Owes
It To Friends to Recommend Master Medicine

DESCRIBES HER BENEFITS

Belleville, Ill., March 31.—Mrs. Peter Becker, 504 South Spring St., this city, wife of an employee of the Malleable Iron Works, at East St. Louis, tried Tanlac recently, and has got back her health.

"My stomach was so out of order for more than a year that I couldn't eat a thing without severe suffering afterward," Mrs. Becker said on March 26. "My appetite was very poor, too. I also was nervous and was so restless at night that I could not sleep. My liver and kidneys were out of order."

"Tanalac was so highly advertised in the papers that I decided to give it a trial. This new medicine has placed my stomach in such good condition that I can eat anything I care for without any suffering afterward whatever. My appetite is greatly improved too. The nervousness, also, has been relieved so much that I am able to sleep soundly every night now. My kidneys and liver have been placed in good condition."

"Tanalac is without doubt the greatest medicine I know anything about and I consider it my duty to recommend it for my friends. It has simply made me feel like a different person all over."

Tanalac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, nervousness, loss of appetite and the like and is a fine tonic and a general system purifier.

Tanalac is now being introduced in Jacksonville at Coover & Shreve's East Side Drug Store where special Tanlac representative is explaining the new medicine to the public daily. Tanlac also may be obtained in Jacksonville at Coover & Shreve's West Side Store.—Adv.

The Overland Big Four continues the famous 35 horsepower Overland which made this institution the second largest automobile concern in the world—in eight years.

It is the same comfortable, roomy, powerful, rugged car that for years has outsold all cars which now sell for more than $400.

Its brand new body design makes it more attractive than ever.

The wheelbase is 112 inches and it has long 48 inch cantilever rear springs.

We believe it is the most comfortable, the easiest riding car to be had for the price—$850.

It is as clearly as ever the excess value car of its class.

And the Overland Light Six is likewise the excess value car of its kind.

Most of the body and chassis parts of the Light Six are the same as those of the Big Four.

So the Six shares directly in the economies of the combined production of fours and sixes.

These cars exemplify with great clearness the excess values made possible through the economies effected by our huge production of the most comprehensive line of cars ever built by any one producer.

Ask us to show you the Big Four and the Light Six.

HOME GARDENER SHOULD MAKE CAREFUL PLANS

How Much Vegetable Seed to Plant for a Family of Four—Plan Garden Before Planting Time.

(Government Bulletin.) Vegetable seed for planting should be ordered at once, so as to be on hand as soon as the weather and condition of the soil make planting possible. Before ordering seed the home gardener would do well to look over his garden plot, decide on the best location for each vegetable, and determine how much seed he will require for the space available for each variety.

He will find it helpful to make a rough plan of his garden on a large sheet of wrapping paper. On this plan he can indicate the spaces to be used for each variety and also by means of colored pencils or symbols show where a second crop is to be planted or interplanted between growing rows and also arrange for the second and third crops which are to follow those previously harvested. Such a plan will enable him to keep the garden busy all season, supplying fresh vegetables during the summer and producing in the late fall root and other crops for winter use. Once the heavy preliminary spading and working of the garden has been done it is about as easy to raise two or three crops as to keep the garden clean of weeds to produce only one picking. The specialists advise those who are not used to gardening or wish to have their children take an interest in the garden to hire a laborer to do the heavy preliminary spading or breaking up of the soil. This heavy work frequently disgusts novices and children who would continue to take an interest in the garden if their task was simply to fine and c soil already broken up.

Seed for a Family of Four.

The following amounts of seed the garden specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture say are needed to plant approximately 100 feet of row or enough to supply vegetables for a family of four.

| | | |
|----------------------|---------------|----------|
| Beans, snap | pint. | 1 |
| Beans, pole Lima | do. | 1-2 |
| Beans, bush Lima | do. | 1-2 to 1 |
| Cabbage, early | ounce. | 1-2 |
| Carrot | do. | 1 |
| Cauliflower | packet. | 1 |
| Celery | do. | 1 |
| Cucumber | ounce. | 1-2 |
| Eggplant | packet. | 1 |
| Kale, or Swiss chard | ounce. | 1-2 |
| Parsley | packet. | 1 |
| Parsnips | ounce. | 1-2 |
| Salsify | do. | 1 |
| Squash, summer | do. | 1-2 |
| Squash, Hubbard type | do. | 1-2 |

The following vegetables, the specialists say, will undoubtedly be planted in larger amounts than those just mentioned, and the amounts of seed given will be a guide for ordinary requirements. Some families may need more of the various vegetables and others would need less:

| | | |
|---------------|---------------|----------|
| Beet | ounces. | 4 |
| Cabbage, late | do. | 1-2 to 1 |
| Corn, sweet | pint. | 1 |
| Lettuce | ounce. | 1 |
| Muskmelon | do. | 1 |
| Onion sets | quarts. | 2 |
| Potato garden | do. | 1-2 to 4 |
| Radish | ounces. | 1 to 2 |
| Spinach | do. | 1-2 |

In spring pound. 1-4
In fall do. 1-4
Tomatoes, late pound. 1-4
Turnips pound. 1-2
Watermelon ounce. 1

The string beans, bush Lima beans, sweet corn, lettuce, peas, and radishes will not all be planted at one time, but successive plantings two or three weeks apart will be made so as to have a fresh supply throughout the season.

Of early Irish potatoes 1 peck to 1-2 bushel will be required, and of late potatoes 1-2 to 1 bushel, or more, depending upon the amount of ground available for this purpose. If possible, enough Irish potatoes should be grown to last through the winter.

In the event that the family wishes to raise vegetables to supply current needs and also to supply a surplus for canning, the amounts indicated above should be considerably increased.

The home gardener should find

WILLARD W. C. T. U. NOTES

"The Sails By the Stars, Concluded"

"What does she carry, this ship Prohibition? Under her breastplate of strong iron bars?"

What treasures rare doth she hold in transition? Guarded by strong arms of veteran tars?

Hope for the hopeless, now drooping so drearily, Help for the helpless, whose hands hang so wearily, Homes for the homeless, glad news ringing cheerily,

She carries good tidings, who sails by the stars.

She is out on the sea, the good ship Prohibition. The treacherous sea of political wars, Sweet baby hands fold in childish petition, Sad woman eyes watch her broad streaming bars.

Their hearts deepest sympathy seaward are wending, Tears and entreaties in unison blending,

Their earnest petitions to heaven ascending, God speed the sailors who sail by the stars.

Ho! Send out your pilot! The good ship Prohibition, Has sighted the land, coming back from the wars, Proud floats her pennon above competition, Loud ring the cheers of her jubilant tars!

Hands are stretched seaward with soul's deepest yearning, Hearts lifted heavenward with gratitude burning,

Victory sails with her, homeward returning, God's beacon guide her, she sails by the stars!

The only safe and proper protection which our people can have against the evils of alcoholic intoxication will come from a nation-wide prohibition law.—Harvey W. Wiley, M. D.

The next business session of the Willard Society will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Julia T. Agnew, 314 West College avenue, Wednesday, April 4, at 2:30 p. m. All members are requested to be present. Get your contributions ready for April 18.

The European war has brought the great alcoholic tragedy home to the governments and to the hearts and minds of men thruout the world as nothing else could have done, advancing by decades, perhaps by generations, the fulfillment of nationwide and world-wide prohibition.—Hon. Richmond P. Hobson.

The drink traffic will continue to prey on defenseless millions until dislodged and annihilated by a sweeping Federal law—Gov. Capper of Kansas.

The movement for national prohibition can not stop because it is grounded in the aspiration of the American people for purity in government, and for righteousness in law.—Sen. Morris Sheppard of Tex.

The American people do not propose to support their government thru the agencies that will finally destroy the government.—Congressman Quinn of Mississippi.

I know only three institutions that will be injured by putting liquor where the hand of resurrection can never reach it—the poorhouse, the penitentiary and the lunatic asylum, and I have no desire to see these institutions with a full house.—Congressman Rucker of Georgia.

who does not take a definite stand will find himself ill regarded on one side and viewed with disfavor by the other. My judgement today is that national prohibition will prove to be the most efficacious solution of the liquor question.—Congressman Morgan of La.

Impelled by the resistless tide of righteous public sentiment, the Sixty-fifth Congress will give to the forty-eight states of our glorious republic the long desired referendum on national constitutional prohibition.—W. C. T. U. National Pres., Anna A. Gordon.

The friends of temperance, the fighters for "God and Home and Native Land," bow our heads in grief, humiliation, and shame at the temporary triumph of the liquor interests in the late deliberations of our legislative assembly. That the proud prairie state of Illinois should consort with disreputable old John Harney, when so many other commonwealths have ousted him, is a dark blot upon the fair pages of her history. But be not dismayed, faithful temperance workers, right will prevail in the end.

"Keep fighting on, keep fighting on. In spite of all, keep fighting on. Keep fighting on, keep fighting on. For God and Home, keep fighting on."

Mrs. Minnie C. Brubaker, Press Supt.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

Last evening occurred the Senior-Junior Reception. The halls were beautifully and tastefully decorated and there was a very happy company of young men and young women.

The Easter recess begins Thursday evening of next week, the college recess including Friday and Saturday. The college work will begin again as usual on the following Tuesday morning. A large number of the students are planning to take advantage of the brief recess for a visit home.

Work is progressing rapidly at the new gymnasium. The swimming pool room is completed with the exception of the marble showers, the floors are all laid downstairs, the lockers are in place, the painting is very nearly completed, the scaffolding has been removed from the main gymnasium room, and the carpenters are beginning on the flooring of the room. A few weeks now will see the building wholly completed. It will be a great addition to the college equipment.

Much interest is manifested in the Wesley Mathers Expression Contest, which occurs Monday evening, April 2. These contests are made possible by the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rowe, in memory of Mrs. Rowe's father Mr. Wesley Mathers, one of the early friends and founders of the College. There will be seven contestants as follows: Edna Cleveland, Ridgway, Illinois; Alice Holder, Oxford, Indiana; Magdalen Mershon, Brazil, Indiana; Maurine Mosenbroeker, Eaton, Indiana; Nylene Previtt, Winchester, Illinois; Louise Reed, Tulsa, Oklahoma; Bernice Wood, Jacksonville.

There is no charge for admission and it will be an evening of unusual entertainment and pleasure. The third annual Art Exhibit closed last Thursday, and the pictures have been shipped, part of them going to New York, and a part going to the Buffalo Fine Arts Academy.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS TO CONGRESS

used as the German submarines have been used against merchant shipping, it is impossible to defend ships against their attacks as the law of nations has assumed that merchantmen would defend themselves against privateers or cruisers, visible craft giving chase upon open sea. It is common prudence in such circumstances, grim necessity indeed, to endeavor to destroy them before they have shown their own intention. They must be dealt with upon sight, it dealt with at all. The German government denies the rights of neutrals to use arms at all within the areas of the sea which it has prescribed, even in the defense of rights which no modern intimation is conveyed that the armed guards which we have placed on our merchant ships will be treated as beyond the pale of law and subject to be dealt with as pirates would be. Armed neutrality is ineffectual enough at best; in such circumstances and in the face of such pretensions it is worse than ineffectual, it is likely once to produce what it was meant to prevent; it is practically certain to draw us into war without either the rights or the effectiveness of belligerents.

There is one choice we cannot make. We are incapable of making: we will not choose the path of submission and suffer the most sacred rights of our nation and our people to be ignored or violated. The wrongs against which we now array ourselves are not common wrongs, they cut to the very roots of human life.

"With a profound sense of the solemn and even tragic character of the step I am taking and of the grave responsibilities which it involves, but in unhesitating obedience to what I deem my constitutional duty, I advise that the congress declare the recent course of the imperial German government to be in fact nothing less than war against the government and people of the United States; that it formally accept the status of belligerent which has thus been thrust upon it and that it take steps not only to put the country in a more thorough state of defense, but also to exert all its power and employ all its resources to bring the government of the German empire to terms and end the war."

"What this will involve is clear. It will involve the utmost practicable co-operation in counsel and action with the governments now at war with Germany, and, as incident to that the extension to those governments of the most liberal financial credits, in order that our resources may, so far as possible be added to theirs. It will involve the organization and mobilization of all the material resources of the country to supply the materials of war and serve the incidental needs of the nation in the most abundant and yet the most economical and efficient way possible. It will involve the immediate full equipment of the navy in all respects, but particularly in supplying it with the best means of dealing with the enemy's submarines. It will involve the immediate addition to the armed forces of the United States all provided for by law in case of war, at least that the 500,000 men, who should, in my opinion, be chosen upon the principle of universal liability to service and also the authorization of the subsequent increments of equal force so soon as they may be needed and can be handled in training."

"It will involve also, of course, the granting of adequate credits to the government, I hope, so far as they can equitably be sustained by the present generation, by well conceived taxation war, say sustained so far as may be equitable by taxation because it seems to me that it would be most unwise to base the credits which will now be necessary entirely on money borrowed. It is our duty I most respectfully urge, to protect our people so far as we may against the very serious hardships and evils which would be likely to arise out of inflation which would be produced by vast loans."

"In carrying out the measures by which these things are to be accomplished we should keep constantly in mind the wisdom of interfering as little as possible in our own preparation and in the equipment of our own military forces for duty, of supplying the nations already at war with Germany with the materials which they can obtain only from us or by our assistance. They are in the field and we should help them in every way to be effective there."

"I shall take the liberty of suggesting, thru the several executive departments of the government for the consideration of your committees, measures for the accomplishment of the several objects I have mentioned. I hope that it will be your pleasure to deal with them as having been framed after very careful thought by the branch of the government upon which the responsibility of conducting the war and safeguarding the nation will most directly fall.

"While we do these things, these deeply momentous things, let us be very clear, and make very clear to all the world what our motives and our objects are. My own thought has not been driven from its habitual and normal course by the unhappy events of the last two months and I do not believe that the thought of the nation has been altered or clouded by them."

"I have exactly the same things in mind now that I had in mind when I addressed the senate on the twenty second of January last; the same that I had in mind when I addressed the congress on the third of February and on the twenty sixth of February. Our object now as then, is to vindicate the principles of peace and justice in the life of the world as against selfish and autocratic power and to set up amongst the really free and self-governed peoples of the world such concert of purpose and of action as will henceforth insure the observance of those principles. Neutrality is no longer feasible or desirable where the peace of the world is involved and the freedom of its peoples. And the menace to that peace and freedom lies in the existence of autocratic governments backed by organized force which is controlled wholly by their will, not by the will of their people. We have seen the last of neutrality in such circumstances. We are at the beginning of an age in which it will be insisted that the same standards of conduct and of responsibility for wrong done shall be observed among nations and their governments that are observed among the individual citizens of civilized states."

"We have no quarrel with the German people. We have no feeling towards them, but one of sympathy and friendship. It was not upon their impulse that their government acted in entering this war. It was not with their previous knowledge or approval."

"It was a war determined upon as war used to be determined upon in the old and unhappy days when peoples were nowhere consulted by their rulers and wars were provoked and waged in the interest of dynasties or of little groups of ambitious men who were accustomed to use their fellowmen as pawns and tools."

"Self-governed nations do not fill their neighbor states with spies or set the course of intrigue to bring about some critical posture of affairs which will give them an opportunity to strike and make conquest. Such designs can be successfully worked only under cover and where no one has the right to ask questions. Cunningly contrived plans of deception or aggression, carried out by one generation to generation, can be worked out and kept from the light only within the privacy of courts or behind the carefully guarded confidences of a narrow and privileged class. They are happily impossible where public opinion commands and insists upon full information concerning all the nation's affairs."

"A steadfast concert for peace can never be maintained except by a partnership of democratic nations. No autocratic government could be trusted to keep faith with it or observe its covenants. It must be a league of honor, a partnership of opinion. Intrigue would eat its vitals away, the plottings of inner circles who could plan what they would and render account to no one would be a corruption seated at its very heart. Only free peoples can hold their purpose and their honor steady to a common end and prefer the interests of mankind to any narrow interest of their own."

"Does not every American feel that assurance has been added to our hope for the future peace of the world by the wonderful and heartening things that have been happening within the last few weeks in Russia?"

"Russia was known by Russia who knew it best to have been always in fact democratic at heart, in all the vital habits of her thoughts, in all the intimate relationships of her people that spoke their natural instinct their habitual attitude towards life."

"The autocracy that crowned the summit of her political structure long as it has stood and terrible as was the reality of its power was not in fact Russian in origin, character, or purpose and now it has been shaken to the great, generous Russian people have been added in all their native majesty and might to the forces that are fighting for freedom in the world, for justice and for peace. Here is a fit partner for a league of honor."

"One of the things that has served to convince us that the Prussian autocracy was not and could never be our friends is that from the very outset of the present war it has filled our unsuspecting communities and even our offices of government with spies and set criminal intrigues everywhere afoot against our national unity of council, our peace within and without, our industries and our commerce."

"Indeed it is now evident that its spies were here before the war began; and it is unhappily not a matter of conjecture, but a fact proved in our courts of justice that the intrigues which have more than once come perilously close to disturbing the peace and dislocating the industries of the country have been carried on at the instigation, with the support and even under the personal direction of official agents of the imperial government accredited to the government of the United States."

"Even in checking these things and trying to extirpate them we have sought to put the most generous interpretations possible upon them because we knew that their source lay, not in any hostile feeling or purpose of the German people towards us (who were no doubt as ignorant of them as we ourselves were) but only in the selfish designs of a government that did what it pleased and told its people nothing. But they have played their part in serving to convince us at last that that government entertains no real friendship for us and means to act against our peace and security at its convenience. That it means to stir up enemies against us at our very doors the intercepted note to the German minister at Mexico City is eloquent evidence."

"We are accepting this challenge of hostile purpose because we know that in such a government following such methods, we can never have a friend; and that in the presence of its organized power, always lying in wait to accomplish we know not what purpose, there can be no assured security for the democratic governments of the world."

"We are now about to accept the gauge of battle with this natural foe to liberty and shall, if necessary spend the whole force of the nation to check and nullify its pretensions and its power. We are glad now that we see the facts with no veil of false pretense about them to light thus for the ultimate peace of the world and for the liberation of its peoples, the German people included; for the rights of nations great and small and the privilege of men everywhere to choose their way of life and of obedience. The world must be made safe for democracy. Its peace must be planted upon the trusted foundations of political liberty."

"We have no selfish ends to serve. We desire no conquest, no dominion. We seek no indemnities for ourselves, no material compensation for the sacrifices we shall freely make. We are but one of the champions of the rights of mankind. We shall be satisfied when those rights have been secured as the faith of the freedom of the nations can make them."

"Just because we fight without rancor and without selfish objects, seeking nothing for ourselves but what we shall wish to share as free people, we shall, I feel confident, conduct our operations as belligerents without passion and ourselves observe with proud punctiliousness the principles of right and of fair play we profess to be fighting for."

"I have said nothing of the governments allied with the imperial government of Germany because they have not made war upon us or challenged to defend our rights and our honor. The Austro-Hungarian government has indeed, avowed its unqualified endorsement and acceptance of the reckless and lawless submarine warfare adopted now without disguise by the imperial German government and it has therefore not been possible for this government to receive Count Tarnowski, the ambassador recently accredited to this government by the imperial and royal government of Austro-Hungary; but that government has not actually engaged in warfare against citizens of the United States on the seas and I take the liberty, for the present at least of postponing a decision of our relationship with the authorities at Vienna."

"We enter this war only where we are clearly forced into it because there are no other means of defending our rights."

"It will be all the easier for us to conduct ourselves as belligerents in a high spirit of right and fairness because we act without animus, not in enmity towards a people or with the desire to bring any injury or disadvantage upon them, but only in armed opposition to an irresponsible government which has thrown aside all considerations of humanity and of right and is running amuck."

"We are, let me say again, the sincere friends of the German people and shall desire nothing so much as the early re-establishment of intimate relations of mutual advantage between us—however, hard it may be for them for the time being, to believe that this is spoken from our hearts. We have borne with their present government thru all these bitter months because that friendship—exercising a patience and forbearance which would otherwise have been impossible. We shall, happily still have an opportunity to prove that friendship in our daily attitude and action towards the millions of men and women of German birth and native sympathy who live amongst us and share our life and we shall be proud to prove it towards all who are in fact loyal to their neighbors and to the government in the hour of test. They are, most of them, as true and loyal Americans as if they had never known any other loyalty or allegiance. They will be prompt to stand with us in rebuking and restraining the few who may be of a different mind and purpose. If there should be disloyalty, it will be dealt with with a firm hand of stern repression, but if it lifts its head at all it will not only here and there without countenance except from a lawless and malignant few."

"It is a distressing and oppressive duty, gentlemen of the congress which I have performed in thus addressing you. There are, it may be many months of fiery trial and sacrifice ahead of us. It is a fearful thing to lead this great peaceful country into war, into the most terrible and disastrous of all wars, civilization itself seeming to be in the balance. But the right is more precious than peace and we shall fight for the things which we have always carried nearest our hearts—for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own governments, for the rights and liberties of small nations, for a universal dominion of right by such a concert of free peoples as shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world itself at last free. To such a task we can dedicate our lives and fortunes everything that we are and everything that we have, with the pride of those who know that the day has come when America is privileged to spend her blood and her might for the principles that gave her birth and happiness and the peace which she has treasured. God helping her, she can do no other."

ASKS DECLARATION OF STATE OF WAR

supplies to the nations already in the field against Germany. Measures to accomplish all these ends, the president told congress, would be presented with the best thought of the executive departments which will be charged with the conduct of the war and he besought consideration for them in that light.

Crowds Cheer Executive
President Wilson's appearance before congress was marked by a scene of the greatest enthusiasm ever shown since he began the practice of delivering his addresses in person. Crowds on the outside of the capitol cheered him frantically as he entered and as he left. Congress roared cheer after cheer in an outburst of patriotic enthusiasm.

From the galleries the only members who appeared not to be joining in the demonstration were some senators of the group which the president branded as "wild men." Chief Justice White was among those who cheered loudly.

Referring only briefly to the long diplomatic correspondence with Germany in his effort to bring her back to the bounds of the laws of humanity and nations, the president launched into his denunciation of the course of the German government which he declared had forced the United States to become a belligerent.

Disclaiming any quarrel with the German people and anything but a feeling of friendship and sympathy for them, the president declared the government had not acted upon their impulses in entering the war nor with their previous knowledge of approval. "It is a war," he said, "determined upon as wars to be determined upon in the old unhappy days when peoples were nowhere consulted by their rulers and wars were provoked and waged in the interest of dynasties or of little groups of ambitious men who were accustomed to use their fellow men as pawns and tools."

In seeking terms the president referred to German plots against the United States. It was evident, the president said that the spies were here even before the war began. That the German government means to stir up enemies at the very doors of the United States was eloquently proved, he said, by the revelation of the plot to embroil Japan and Mexico in war with the United States.

"We are accepting this challenge of hostile purpose," said the president, "because we know that in such a government, following such methods, we can never have a friend; and that in the presence of its organized power always lying in wait to accomplish we know not what purpose, there can be no assured security for the democratic governments of the world."

To Spend Whole Force of Nation
The "whole force of the nation," if necessary, the president declared, would be spent against this "natural foe to liberty."

Toward Germany's allies the president said, the United States was taking no action at this time, because they were not engaged in warfare against Americans on seas. The president expressed his confidence in the loyalty of naturalized citizens and declared that if disloyalty did lift its head it would be only from "a lawless and malignant few" and sternly would be suppressed.

While the president was speaking word of the torpedoing without warning of the American steamship Arizona, the first American armed ship to be attacked in the barred zone, was passed from mouth to mouth, but the president did not know of it until he had finished.

While congress works tomorrow on the war resolution the cabinet will hold a war session to which Major General Scott, chief of staff of the army and Admiral Benson, chief of operations of the navy may be invited.

DEMOCRATS RE-ELECT CHAMP CLARK SPEAKER

Washington, April 2.—The Democrats with the aid of four of the five independents, organized the house when the new congress assembled today, re-electing Speaker Champ Clark of Missouri and sweeping into office with him all the other Democratic caucus nominees.

Mr. Clark received 217 votes against 206 for Representative Mann the Republican choice for speaker, who not only failed to receive an independent vote but lost the support of five of his party colleagues.

TO PARK MONUMENTBelieves Memorial Building Much More Desirable—Two Paying Ordinances Adopted—Estimate Made for South Fork Reservoir.At the meeting of the city council Monday morning officers' reports were read and an estimate of the Jacksonville Engineering company
as to the cost of increasing the size of Morgan lake was presented. The estimate of cost includes purchase of land and damage to other territory is given as $64,448.The ordinance for the paving of the "loop" district and for Mound avenue were given final reading. The council in answering the request of representatives of the monument association went on record as being opposed to the erection of a soldiers' monument in Central park unless the plans were changed to call for a memorial building instead of a shaft.Spoke for Monument Association Major McDougall and Dr. C. H.
Rammelkamp were present as representatives of the monument association to ask the council for authority to erect a soldier's monument in the park. They presented to the council for reading a copy of a resolution adopted by the county board declaring in favor of a monument
rather than a memorial building, and expressing their desire to have this monument erected in Central park. Mr. Widmayer said that while he wanted to see the wishes of the old soldiers carried out, that he had found out from conversation with a number of citizens considerable objections to the plan of erecting a monument in Central park.
He said there was some feeling that some other part of the city would be more appropriate for a memorial unless this memorial is in the form of a public building. He said that no doubt the present city council would be willing to pipe steam from the city plant and also furnish the lighting for such a building. He favored a memorial where room might be had for the meetings of the old soldiers and records and relics kept in safety, with suitable tablets for the names of all soldiers.Council Favors Memorial Building Mr. Martin said he was opposed to a monument if it was to be in the center of the park and all those present seemed to have the idea that if the park was to be the site that the center must be used. The committee had indicated that they wished a decision on the matter at once as they had notified a number of artists and designers that they might come to the city next Saturday to look over the ground and get some data for designs. Mr. Vasconcellos thought that the monument association visitors should not ask such a speedy decision as there is a difference of opinion among people as to the desirability of having a monument or memorial shaft in the park.
He asked if after the designers and artists came it might not be possible that the old soldiers would be willing to change their ideas and have a building rather than a monument.Mayor Rodgers took the ground that in a question of this kind that instead of having the county board adopt a resolution and come to final decision it would be better for the county board and the council to get together and endeavor to agree upon the plans. Mr. Cox did not approve a hasty decision on the matter and the motion that permission be granted for a memorial building was carried by unanimous vote. This was equivalent to denying the right to erect a monument at the present time.In presenting the case to the council Major McDougall and Dr. Ram-melkamp both pointed out that the old soldiers of the county have expressed their unanimous wish for a monument rather than a memorial.
They are especially opposed to a memorial building which might be used as a rest room or for purposes of that kind, as they do not believe that the mere question of utility should enter into the present proposition.The department reports were not extensive. Mr. Cox told of the difficulty of repairing the South Diamond street sewer as the heavy rains are keeping the manholes full and have made work almost impossible. The commissioner also told of trouble with the sewer at the residence of Dr. Dewey, where roots from trees have formed an obstruction. Mr. Vasconcellos presented a report from the Jacksonville Engineering company giving an estimate of the cost for increasing the size of Morgan lake storage. This report is printed below in full. Mr.
Vasconcellos also reported some trouble with one of the wells at the north side station and difficulty with the lighting system in the third ward. Work is being done to remedy both difficulties speedily.The ordinance for paving with cresote blocks in the business district was given a second reading and adopted. Like action was taken with the ordinance providing for an asphalt pavement on Mound avenue. Both of the ordinances will now be filed in the county court for the usual hearing and subsequent proceedings.W. L. Armstrong and W. T. Johns were present with a petition signed by a number of North Church street property owners asking that work on the proposed re-paving of North Church be deferred for another year. This petition was received and placed on file. Mayor Rodgers stated subsequently that since the proceedings have gone so far and that they have reached the county court, that that will be the only place where objections to the paving or any proposal for postponement can properly come.Officers' Report

Lemons Beautify!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.Here is told how to prepare an inexpensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring back to any skin the sweet freshness of which it has been robbed by trying atmospheric conditions. Wind-chaffer, roughness, tan and redness are washed off and those telltale lines of care or of age are softened away.The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold-creams.
Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoother and beautifier.Just try it. Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands and see for yourself.—

T. J. KENDRICK MET
ACCIDENTAL DEATH

Fell From Stairway in Detroit, Mich., and Fractured His Skull—Funeral in Detroit Monday.

Thomas J. Kendrick, former resident of this city, died in a hospital in Detroit, Mich., Saturday morning as the result of a fall down a stairway on Thursday. Kendrick sustained a fractured skull. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Deceased was about 45 years of age and came to Jacksonville probably twenty-five or thirty years ago. For a time he worked for the late Edward S. Greenleaf and then secured work at the C. P. & St. L. shops where he learned the trade of boiler maker. He remained in the employ of the C. P. & St. L. until about six years ago when he secured a position as elevator man in the state house at Springfield. He left the position about two years ago and went to Detroit where he was employed in an automobile factory.

His wife died several years ago and a son died about a year ago. He is survived by a daughter Miss Margaret Kendrick of Springfield, who went to Detroit Saturday. The funeral was held in that city.

Thomas J. Kendrick or "Tommy" as he was better known, took an active interest in local politics for a number of years. He was elected to the city council as alderman from the first ward in 1901 and served until 1902 when he retired in favor of William Doolin. He was reelected in 1905 and served for three successive terms, being a member of the last city council under the aldermanic form of government.

WAR TIME PRICES
INTERESTING NOW

Advertisement of New York House Published in 1864 Shows Figures Three Times Larger Than Now.

A salesman for J. W. Sinnock & Son who was in Jacksonville Monday interviewing Myers Bros., Thomas Duffner and some other clothiers had with him an advertisement of H. B. Claflin & Co's. store of New York, published Aug. 27, 1864. The advertisement gave the prices on some lines of dress goods and clothing and these figures are so much greater now than in 1864 and the capacity for manufacturing so much greater, it is not likely that such figures will be reached, for this salesman said, "We would have to go some to catch up with those war prices." For example, prints which now sell at 10c a yard were quoted in the advertisement at 45c and 46c, with apron checks and shirtings selling at approximate figures. Here is the Claflin list:

TRACK TRAVELER KILLED
ON WABASH ROAD

W. H. McManus Crushed Beneath Iron Wheels Three Miles East of City.

W. H. McManus, a man apparently about 50 years of age was instantly killed Monday afternoon by the west bound Wabash passenger train due here at 5:13 o'clock, about three miles east of the city.

Both legs were broken off at the ankles and there was a large cut in the back of the head and other bruises. The train was stopped and the body placed in the baggage car and brought here and taken to Reynolds' undertaking establishment. Coroner Rose was notified and will hold an inquest this afternoon at the Reynolds parlors.

McManus evidently was a hobo. He was poorly dressed and in his pocket was found a small note book. In the front of the book was written, "Will you kindly help a deaf man out a little please." On the reverse of the front cover was written the words, "The Price of a Combination." On the dead man's right arm was tattooed the name given above and was the only means of identification. He carried some coffee in a sack and had a tin can slung over his shoulder by a string which he evidently used for boiling his coffee.

GRACE CHURCH

At Grace church Sunday there was a fitting observance of Palm Sunday at both morning and evening services. Miss Rena Lazelle sang. The palms at the morning hour and the theme of Rev. F. B. Madden's splendid sermon was "The Triumphal Procession from Bethany to Jerusalem." At the evening hour Steiner's Crucifixion was given a beautiful rendition by the church choir under the direction of Mr. Stearns. The choir was assisted by Miss Lazelle, Mr. B. F. Lane, baritone, and Mr. C. P. L. Jensen, organist. Miss Lazelle's solo, "King all Glorious" was given with wonderful beauty and the duet by Miss Lazelle and Mr. Lane, "So Thou Rarest Thy Divine Petition," was splendidly interpreted. The work of the chorus the service they gave evidence of their ability and were under the perfect control of Mr. Stearns. The church choir has three times before given cantatas but none of them with more success of musicianly excellence.

Miss Constance of the Woman's college read with great sympathy and expression St. Luke's narrative of the crucifixion.

MISS MERSHON WINNER
ESLEY MATHERS CONTEST

"At the Matinee" Took First Prize at Woman's College—Miss Cleveland Second

The annual Wesley Mathers contest in declamation was held Monday evening before a large audience in music hall. There were seven numbers, five of which of a humorous nature, kept the assembly in continual ripples of merriment while the cutting from "Within the Law" held the people breathless from beginning to end with the intense pathos of the piece and intense declamation of the speaker. The cutting from Hugo's Les Miserables was also well received. With the excellent selection and execution of the readings the contest was considered one of the best ever held.

The first prize was awarded to the reading, "At the Matinee," spoken by Miss Magdalene Mershon, while the second was awarded to Miss Edna Cleveland's "How Gentlemen are Made." Honorable mention was made of Miss Motesenbocker's cutting from Dickens' "The Bird's Christmas Carol." Miss Mershon's declamation told of a very garrulous young lady at the theatre, and Miss Cleveland recited the trials of a young man at a dancing school, while Miss Motesenbocker told of a lady's instructions to her children before a supper. All were well presented and extremely entertaining.

The program follows:
Cutting from "The Bird's Christmas Carol" Dickens
"How Gentlemen are Made" Miss Edna Cleveland
Cutting from "Within the Law" Veiller
Cutting from "Les Miserables" Miss Louise Reed
Cutting from "How Gentlemen are Made" Hugo
"The Third Ingredient" O. Henry
"At the Matinee" Miss Nylene Prewitt
"The Hazing of Valiant" Miss Magdalene Mershon
"The Bird's Christmas Carol" Miss Bernice Wood
The judges were Miss Elson Barnes, L. C. Robinson and Rev. F. A. McCarty.

DECISION EXPECTED IN BANK FAILURE SUITS

Supreme Court to Pass on County Decree Entered a Year Ago—Large Number of Cases on Docket.

Springfield, Ill., April 2.—The Illinois Supreme court, which will convene Tuesday for the April term, is expected to announce its decision in the suits growing out of the failure of the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank of Chicago, the Lorimer-Munday institution, in which the circuit court of Cook county entered a decree that the Central Trust company of Chicago pay to the receiver of the bank $1,250,000 with interest amounting to $237,854, and that the LaSalle street bank stockholders were liable to the creditors of the LaSalle street bank to the par value of their holdings.

The LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank, a state institution, which replaced the LaSalle Street National bank, closed its doors June 12, 1914 and William C. Niblack later was appointed receiver. Many creditors suits were started and investigation of the bank's affairs extended to the manner of its organization as the successor of the LaSalle Street National bank of which William Lorimer, former United States senator was president and Charles B. Munday, was vice president, the two holding the same positions in the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank, the state institution.

As a result of the inquiry litigation was begun by the receiver against the Central Trust company on the ground that in return for ten worthless notes for $125,000 each, the National Bank issued a cashier's check for $1,250,000 which was credited to the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank and on which cash to the same amount was obtained from the Central Trust company thru Charles G. Davies, its president.

The receiver contended that the $1,250,000 was counted by the state auditor in the office of the Central Trust company as the property of the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank and that after being so counted the auditor's certificate permitting the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank to do business was issued under the state charter. The receiver contended further that thereupon the money immediately was returned to the coffers of the Central Trust company.

The receiver contended that the circumstances of transaction established the liability of the Central Trust company for the $1,250,000 with interest from the date of the transfer Oct. 12, 1912.

At the hearing in the lower court the receiver sought to prove that the LaSalle Street National bank was on the point of liquidation when the state bank was being organized and that its officers knew it to be insolvent and that the return of the $1,250,000 to the Central Trust company left the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank at the outset with out actual cash or assets other than the assets of the former national bank.

Receiver Niblack further contended that the stockholders of the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank were liable to the bank creditors to twice the pay value of their stock holdings.

Hearing of the case in the lower court on the complaint of creditors and the cross complaint of the receiver who was a defendant in the creditors suits, continued May to July, 1916, when the decree was entered.

The same contentions were advanced by the receiver in the appeal which had been presented to the lower court. The Central Trust company contended that the transfer had been made with no knowledge of an insolvent condition in the LaSalle Street National bank and in accordance with the usual custom at the organization of banks under the direction of the rules of the state auditor.

Another case of interest is that of the people against Daniel Donahue, a Chicago attorney, found guilty of conspiracy to defame the character of Clarence S. Funk, of Chicago, former general manager of the International Harvester Company.

Funk was found not guilty of attempting to alienate the affections of Mrs. John C. Henning, wife of John Henning, who brought suit for damages against Funk for $25,000 at the instigation, it was alleged of Donahue.

Donahue was tried in the criminal court of Cook county for conspiracy to defame the character of Funk and was found guilty of this and of attempting to extort money by the use of prepared evidence.

A large number of other cases are on the docket.

MINERS CELEBRATE 8-HOUR DAY

Hazleton, Pa., April 2.—The 175,000 miners in the anthracite region kept a holiday today in observance of the first anniversary of the granting of the eight-hour day, which they won in their agreement with the operators a year ago. Only the firemen, engineers, pump runners and others whose presence was necessary to prevent flooding of the collieries remained on duty. Mass meetings were held everywhere to impress on the men the significance of the victory they gained by the shortening of their hours. According to the operators, the eight-hour day has not curtailed the output.

MOTORCYCLE OFFICER HAS BEEN NAMED

Ray Hogan Will Watch for Offenders Against Provisions of the Traffic Ordinance.

Ray Hogan was appointed traffic officer Monday by J. E. Martin, Commissioner of Public Health and Safety. This step was taken after a large number of complaints had been made to the police department of violations of the traffic ordinance. Commissioner Martin had hoped that automobile owners would observe the law and thus save the expense of an officer. However, there seem to be more violations than ever and the officer was appointed after a discussion of conditions with Chief of Police Davis.

The main complaints that come in are of violations of the speed, muffler and rear lights sections of the ordinance. Officer Hogan will pay particular attention to the above violations.

Chief Davis said yesterday that there are a large number of automobiles without rear lights. He also remarked that a number of complaints had been received about drivers of delivery trucks violating the speed and muffler sections of the ordinance. The chief said it would be well for employers who have auto trucks to warn their drivers about obeying the law, especially as to speeding in the business section of the city.

Commissioner Martin has under consideration plans for greater parking space about the public square. This matter will be taken up soon and it is hoped that extra space will be provided within the next few weeks.

ENTERS CAMPAIGN TO REDUCE LIVING COST

State Fair Board to Offer Prizes for Best City Back Yard Vegetables—New Contests for High School Children.

St. Springfield, Ill., April 2.—Entering the campaign to reduce the cost of living the state fair board has authorized Secretary R. M. Davison to offer prizes to be distributed at the state fair, Sept. 7 to 15, for the best exhibits of vegetables raised in city back yard gardens. The amounts of the prizes were not announced.

In an effort to increase interest in sheep growing in Illinois, the fair board will increase prizes offered in this department by twenty five per cent, Mr. Davison announced. For the first time there will also be an exhibit this year of shorn wool.

Three new contests, open to high school children under 18 years of age, are as follows:

For the best kept egg and feed record for a home flock of chickens covering a period of two months.

For the best kept fat and feed record of two or more dairy cows over a period of two months.

For the best farm produce map of any county in Illinois.

Inducements will be offered to heavy horse exhibitors in the form of more attractive prizes and awards, Mr. Davison said. Special attention also will be paid this year to Mule Foot and Spotted Poland China hogs.

Entries for live stock exhibits will close August 27, ten days earlier than usual owing to the fact that the fair is set ahead of its usual date.

The board has decided to hold a night horse show this year and to throw the gates open without an admission fee after 6 p. m. The horse show two years ago was not considered a success.

Complimentary tickets of all kinds will be abolished.

WAR! WAR! WAR!

War to the Knife and Knife to the Hilt to Save the Nation, if Necessary
(By J. M. Swales)

Editor Journal—Saturday night witnessed one of the greatest gatherings ever assembled in Chicago, the event being brought about by the crisis now confronting the American republic. The Auditorium Theatre which has a seating capacity of 5,700, was jammed to its fullest seating capacity and thousands were turned away and overflow meetings were held in other buildings in the near vicinity. Patriotism was rampant and all classes and conditions of people composed the vast audience. There were flags and banners and bunting and music galore all forming a scene of patriotic inspiration seldom witnessed by the present or past generation. Everybody sang and everybody shouted till the rafters quivered and the roof seemed to raise. It was enthusiasm gone wild and at times the applause was deafening as this or that speaker scored a hit appropriate to the occasion. It was an occasion where politics were relegated to the shades of innocuous desecration and a determination to stand by the president and congress to the last drop of American blood and the last dollar in the nation's strong box was manifested by all in the great audience. A feature of the occasion, and the most prominent of all the stirring events was the drum and pipe corps composed of veterans of the civil war and the martial strains took us back to the stirring days of old as we marched and fought under the Starry Banner under Grant and Logan at Shiloh, Donelson, Mission Ridge, Lookout Mountain, the Atlanta campaign and the March to the Sea. Sixty miles in latitude, three hundred to the main. Every time there was a song the audience rose en masse and there was a vast, tumultuous roar of applause and an ocean of fluttering, waving banners, and everybody felt it was good to have been there, for it was a mighty protest against the insults that have been heaped upon this government since the crowned heads of the now tottering empires hurled millions into the great world cataclysm that is now devastating the nations beyond the seas and turning civilization back a thousand years.

Flags Much in Evidence
Behind and above the speakers' stand were flags, and above it were more flags. To the front there were more flags, and each one in the audience had a flag and each one waved that mighty emblem of our nation's power and glory so that at one and the same time there were five thousand and five hundred all fluttering as the mighty audience was singing patriotic songs. Some one in the audience started "Tipperary" and everybody fell into line, or rather into song, and the rest went up at least a foot. Then the life and drum corps started up "The Girl I Left Behind Me," and O, Boy, my mind went back to the day I left old Jacksonville in '61 to fight for the flag and was one of the many who stood between our loved homes and war's desolation. I left my girl in tears, and I kissed her on the forehead—I should have said the cheek—and I vowed eternal fidelity. But, O, cruel fate, inside of a year she forgot me and married another fellow and I was left to mourn while mourning was good for bad, just as you may view the matter.

Met Boyhood Friend
Just before we entered the Auditorium and while I was strolling along Michigan avenue I met a fellow who kept watching me, and I turned my lamps on him and we each turned at the same time. "Say," he says to me, "Haven't I seen you somewhere?" And we stood looking intently at each other for a few moments. "Ain't you Jim Swales?" "I am," said I. "Your face looks familiar," he said, "But who the blank are you?" You could have knocked me down with a feather when he told me he was Mat Brennan, an old boyhood friend whom I had not seen for about fifty-five years. He is an uncle of Joe P. Brennan, of Jacksonville, and the last of the older set of that name who lived in Jacksonville in antebellum days and after. A shade of sadness came over his features as I told him of the vast number of old time friends and comrades who have passed away since he and I were boys together in the old town of Jacksonville. He asked me about Gus Fay, who died many years ago, and the Smith Brothers, Tai, George and Jim—all gone to their long homes. Tai was a shoemaker, George a lawyer and Jim a brick mason. At the beginning of the civil war Mat Brennan was working at his trade (blacksmith) in the village of Lynville and when the tocsin sounded Mat left the forge and went to the front as a member of the Thirty-third Illinois Infantry and helped to keep Old Glory in the sky. For twenty-five years he has been a citizen of the melting pot and is now in the employ of the city and resides in the 27th ward on the northwest side. Like all citizens who have been residents of Jacksonville he longs for a return to the scenes of his boyhood days and a visit to the silent city where reposes the ashes of his ancestors and other associates of "Auld Lang Syne." But like the rest of us who carried and fought under the Starry Banner in the days of old his shadow is lengthening as we approach the end of our life journey.

In Ante-bellum Days
I also met the grand-daughter of Captain James Floyd Longley, one of the captains of Co. A, Tenth Illinois Infantry. In ante-bellum days he was proprietor of the old Western House, quite a pretentious "tavern" of those days before the war. It was located just south of where now stands the Farrell bank on the corner of the square and West State street. Of course I had never seen or heard of her before, but she was exceedingly glad to meet me because I had served in the same company with her father. Her mother, Sallie Longley, was one of the most beautiful young ladies in Jacksonville at that time, caused many a fellow to have a pain in the upper left side of his anatomy. Her brother, John J. Longley, who was drum major of our old regiment, is now a well to do citizen of Newton, Iowa. Captain Floyd Longley, whom some of our older citizens will perhaps remember, died about twenty-five years ago, and a brave defender of the flag passed onto fame's eternal camping ground, and lest we forget we say it yet that he was among the first to respond to the call of Lincoln for 75,000 volunteers, and was an officer in the first company that landed at Cairo, Ill., which was then called the "front" and the dividing line between the free and slave states, at the confluence of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

Feeling of '61 Lacking
To those who responded to the call to arms in the days of the Sixties it seems the spirit that actuated us in those perilous days is lacking, notwithstanding the fact that there is a "seeming" awakening of the dormant patriotism of this day and generation—a kind of feeling to let the other fellow do the trench stunt or the more strenuous work on the open field where muskets blaze and artillery freckles the lowering clouds of war with the paint of hell on them in all its so-called grandeur and mock sublimity. The sentiment at the big Auditorium meeting seemed to be for universal training—that is to say, for each individual citizen to bear his individual share of the heat and burden of war, and that the rich man as well as the poor man shall take their place side by side with the defenders of the nation in case we are compelled to fight against any or all nations that may cast beligerent eyes towards us in our so-called safe isolation. In the days of the civil war thousands escaped service because they were able to buy substitutes in case they were drafted. In the present crisis I often wonder how and where we will find readers of our millions who may be called to the tented field or rail the ocean to battle with the giant fleets of battleships and deadly, crafty submarines. If we could call back to earth the great leaders in our civil war, such as Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and Logan, and the matchless hosts who passed in review down Pennsylvania avenue on that far away May in '65, it is my belief that the old Ship of State, with a Lincoln at the helm, would safely, grandly, proudly pass through all perils and dangers into the harbor of peace—not peace at any price—but a peace with honor that will make us the brightest gem in the grand galaxy of all the nations of the earth, and thus be in a position to make all future wars impossible on either side of the ocean.

Old Glory to the Fore
"Then, too, sail on, O Ship of State; Sail on, O Union, proud and great; Humanity, with all its fears, With all its hopes of future years, Hangs breathless on thy fate!"
And:
"When freedom from her mountain height Unfurled her standard to the air, She tore the azure robe of night And fixed the Stars of Glory there. Forever float that standard sheet Where breathes the foe but falls before us With freedom's soil beneath our feet And freedom's banner spreading o'er us."

And by the grace of God Old Glory must be kept at the fore even tho the remnant of the Grand Army of the Republic shall be called to defend it against all kings, emperors, czars and kaisers whose crowns and sceptres are now, even this day and hour, being prepared for the scrap heap.
Yours for Old Glory,
J. M. Swales,

CORNS HURT TODAY?

Lift your corns or calluses off with fingers and it won't pain you one bit.

Yes! You truly can lift off every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as hardened calluses on bottom of feet without one bit of pain.

A genius in Cincinnati discovered freezone. It is an ether compound and tiny bottles of this magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Apply several drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with the fingers. You feel no pain while applying freezone or afterwards.

Just think! No more corns or calluses to torture you and they go without causing one twinge of pain or soreness. You will call freezone the magic drug and it really is. Genuine freezone has a yellow label. Look for the label.

than please the taste

A cigarette that simply pleases the taste does only a part of what a cigarette should do—

Besides pleasing the taste, Chesterfields do another thing, a new thing—

Chesterfields just "touch the spot," they let you know you are smoking—they "SATISFY"!

And yet, they're mild!

The blend does it—it's the unusual skill in proportioning the costly imported and domestic tobaccos. And the blend can't be copied.

Chesterfields will prove to you that there can be more to a cigarette than good taste. Try them and see. Today.

EDUCATION BOARD IN MONTHLY SESSION

TUITION RECEIPTS RUN OVER

Expenses for Year Held to Budget
Plans—Architect suggests Ventilator and Heating Changes—Arrangements Completed for Election Day—Board Members to Serve as Judges

The board of education met last evening and transacted ordinary business. A report regarding the heating of the high school, was made by architect J. K. C. Pierson and presented. The salary of Mrs. C. P. Brown, cook at the open air school was increased. The matter of arranging a stage in the gymnasium and making a place for commencement and general gatherings was discussed. The board congratulated the David Prince pupils on leading in the matter of selling red cross seals and instructed Pres. Lippincott to address them. Polling places and judges for the coming election were chosen.

Expenses Kept With Budget
The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved. Bills amounting to $9,957.32 were presented and approved. Of this sum $5,563.41 was payroll and $2,379.82 old bills of the previous administration. The secretary also stated that in general the budget estimate was well adhered to with the exception of janitors which had somewhat overrun but some other estimates had not yet been touched so that in general it looked as if the board would keep within the estimates made at the beginning of the year.

A communication from W. A. Hartlett, lighting and agent, was read. He said some rods were out of order, some buildings had no rods and one building which he had the promise of furnishing with rods had not yet been supplied. No action.

The question of heating was presented by the building and grounds committee and their report was embodied in the communication of architect J. K. C. Pierson as given below:

The committee was instructed to secure plans and specifications for the work, boiler house, smoke stack, etc.

The secretary was instructed to send letters of condolence and sympathy to Miss Anna Hopper, J. P. Hopper and Miss Clara Russell on the death of relatives.

Mrs. Carrie P. Brown, cook and janitress at the open air school, asked for an increase in salary and the same was raised from $24 to $30 a month.

Suggests Gym for Commencement

Supt. Perrin presented a communication regarding a place for school gatherings and entertainments. He stated that the opera house cost $75 each time it was secured and it was a heavy expense. He said the gymnasium, he thought, could well be utilized for the purpose and asked Principal Callahan of the high school who was present, to speak on the subject. The latter said a temporary stage had been erected on the south side of the apartment and he thought a permanent one could be placed there wisely. The bleachers now there would seat 350 and 650 chairs could be placed on the floor providing seating for 1010. Aside from the boxes the seating capacity of the opera house, exclusive of the pit or gallery he reported as 900, which is the maximum, and 200 for the gallery.

There would also be another argument for the gymnasium and that was the fact that speakers could be heard there so much more readily than in the opera house. Chairs could be rented for $12.00 for an evening. A door thru the west wall of the stage would give access to a simple dressing room. The high school graduating class would be glad to use the gymnasium for commencement; the walls could be temporarily decorated and in time, if deemed best, could be supplied with glazed tile the several feet up and hard plaster the rest of the way and

OUCH! LUMBAGO?

Try Mustecle. See How Quickly It Relieves

You just rub Mustecle in briskly, and usually the pain is gone—a delicious, soothing comfort comes to take its place. Mustecle is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Use it instead of mustard plaster. Will not blister.

Many doctors and nurses use Mustecle and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, rashes of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). Always dependable.

some kind of an ornamental ceiling so that the place would still be suitable for the gymnasium and also attractive. The temporary stage now up could be used for some nearby affairs and it seemed wise a permanent stage could be erected when the proper time came.

It was decided to cut the door in the west wall of the stage and the teachers' committee, Members Metcalf, Pierson and Brockman, were instructed to see to the whole matter.

Tablet Recommended
Supt. Perrin read a report regarding tablets for the pupils of the schools. He recommended that the goods of the Central Paper and Tablet Co. be considered standard uniform series for the school system and that he have power to approve any equivalent tablet for the school system and no such tablet to contain less paper or paper of inferior quality than that specified by the company named above. The prices to the dealers and the count had been guaranteed by the company mentioned to all dealers buying up thru next September. The report was adopted.

Supt. Perrin read a letter from a member of the legislature who said bill was before the legislature limiting the number of members which boards may have in cities of not less than 1,000 population and not more than 100,000, said bill not to interfere with cities whose boards have already been chosen. The new bill before the legislature would limit the number of members to six exclusive of president. The secretary was instructed to send a letter expressing pleasure at the courtesy shown by the communication to the board.

Supt. Perrin read a letter from the state Anti-Tuberculosis society stating that the pupils of the David Prince school had won the large banner by selling the greatest number of seals in proportion to their number of any school in the state. Pres. Lippincott to Address Pupils

The president of the board was instructed to address the pupils and tender them the congratulations of the board and its hearty appreciation of what they had accomplished. The flag is about six by ten feet and buildings and grounds committee was instructed to have a suitable pole connected with the David Prince building erected.

Supt. Perrin reported some $2000 collected for tuition and $3300 yet due.

Supt. Perrin reported the matter of contagious diseases in satisfactory condition.

The matter of election, April 21st, was brought up. It was deemed expedient, according to law to pay judges for serving so it was decided that two members of the board should serve at each of the polling places and that the election committee, Pres. Lippincott and members Pierson and Rogerson, secure clerks.

Polling Places and Judges
The polling places and judges are to be as follows:

First ward, Jefferson school building. Judges, Members Muehlhausen and Duncan.

Second ward, David Prince building. Judges, Members Black and Pierson.

Third ward, county polling place, corner South Mauvaisterre street and East College avenue. Judges, Members Rapp and Metcalf.

Fourth ward, county polling place building, corner South Fayette and Grove streets. Judges, Members Rogerson and Brockman.

Member Hopper was made a committee of the whole to supply lunch and dinner for the polling places.

It was understood that any member not wishing to serve as judge would be permitted at his or her own expense, to furnish a suitable substitute.

The third janitor at the high school was ordered dismissed as the mild weather renders his services not needed.

An electric heater was ordered bought for use in the Franklin and Morton school buildings.

Adjourned.

Building Report.

4217.

To the Board of Education,

Jacksonville, Illinois.

At the request of your Building and Grounds Committee I have gone over the heating system of the High School Building with reference to making it more efficient.

I believe, as a whole, the present fan system will heat the building, the trouble is with the system of automatic control which has been in operation so long that it has become almost absolutely inoperative.

The diaphragms are worn out, the air pipes leak and the dampers do not work properly. This is not surprising when you consider that the system has been installed at least 16 years and probably no overhauling in that time.

It would cost approximately $1000.00 to put this system in complete working order.

It is possible that a few of the rooms would need some direct radiation to help out in the heating.

stalled under the Paul vacuum, which is the system in the David Prince Building, and use the fan system for ventilating purposes only, is good, and it is less complex in its management, less apt to get out of order and requires less expert handling. This will enable you to heat the building in the morning before school hours without running the ventilating apparatus, thereby heating the building in less time and at less expense.

In doing this I would recommend putting in radiation to heat the building to 70 deg. Fah. above zero outside and for the comparatively few days of colder weather turn steam into the fan coils and in this manner heat the building in the extreme weather.

To install a complete system of direct radiation, with the Paul Vacuum System, will cost approximately $3500.00 under present prices of radiation, pipes, valves, etc.

The suggestion of building a new boiler room and removing the boilers from their present location and putting the girl's toilets in their original location, which is the west part of the present boiler room, is in my opinion the most important suggestion that has been made.

It would materially reduce the smoke nuisance and would correct the most serious condition that exists in the High School Building, that of the extremely insanitary location of the girl's toilets.

As now located the fresh air for the fan system is at times partially drawn thru the girl's toilet room and distributed over the entire building. Comments on this arrangement are not necessary.

To build a new boiler house and stack will cost approximately $4000.00.

To move and reset the boilers, make steam and water connections will cost approximately $2500.00.

To change the girl's toilets will cost approximately $700.00.

I would emphasize the insanitary location and arrangement of the girl's toilets as being of vital importance.

The fact that there is trouble in heating the building for a few days of extreme weather, and the possible closing of school for a few days is nothing when compared with the trouble that might be caused by the present insanitary conditions.

Yours truly,

J. K. C. Pierson

Walter Deitz Says Benefits Came in Short Time After Trying New Medicine

INDORSES IT FOR OTHERS

Ottawa, Ill., April 3.—Walter Deitz, 301 West Main street, this city, painter and decorator in Ottawa for the last six years, highly praises Tanlac, the Master Medicine, because of benefits he recently derived from its use.

"I was in a general run down condition," Mr. Deitz said on March 25. "My stomach was all out of order and my kidneys were very weak. I also was bothered with my liver. My stomach was in a sickened, soured condition almost all the time. My kidneys were very irregular. Dark yellow blotches appeared often on my skin. Nothing I ate tasted right and I often became nauseated. I suffered from severe headaches almost constantly.

"Tanlac was so highly recommended by others who had tried it that I decided to give it a trial. I've taken two bottles of Tanlac now and I'm improved all over. The sickened, soured condition of my stomach has disappeared entirely and my stomach seems to be in excellent shape now. I'm never bothered with headaches like I formerly experienced. The nauseated sensation is a thing of the past also. My kidneys have been placed in good order and my skin is taking on a healthy color.

"As a spring tonic and general system purifier, Tanlac can't be beaten."

"Hundreds of people of Jacksonville and vicinity are now taking Tanlac and in nearly every case are deriving big benefits," the Tanlac Man said at Coover & Shreve's drug store yesterday. "Tanlac seems to go straight to the seat of stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, nervousness, loss of appetite and the like and to bring relief quickly.

Tanlac is now being introduced in Jacksonville at Coover & Shreve's East Side Drug Store where a special Tanlac representative is explaining the new medicine to the public daily.

Tanlac also may be obtained in Jacksonville at Coover & Shreve's West Side Store.—Adv.
